- (g) Prepare staff to identify children who may benefit from early help and encourage them to be particularly alert to the potential need for early help for children with the indicators listed in KCSIE or WTSC.
- (h) Be alert to children who are at potentially greater risk of harm including children who need a social worker and children requiring mental health support. The mental health lead is responsible for developing a holistic approach to promoting and supporting the mental wellbeing of pupils and staff.
- (i) Be alert to the needs of pupils with physical or mental health conditions, special educational needs or disabilities, which could be an indicator that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation, and where additional barriers can exist when detecting abuse or neglect.
- (j) Encourage a culture of listening to pupils and victims of abuse and taking account of their wishes and feelings in any measure put in place and actions taken by the school to protect them.

prejudice-based harm and ensure that concerns are considered within safeguarding practice where appropriate.

- (q) Promote an inclusive, anti-discriminatory culture where racism, and other forms of discriminatory behaviour are recognised, challenged and addressed as part of their safeguarding responsibilities.

7.3 Staff may follow the school's whistleblowing policy to raise concerns about poor or unsafe safeguarding practices at the school or potential failures by the school or its staff to properly fulfil its safeguarding responsibilities. Such concerns will be taken seriously. The NSPCC whistleblowing helpline is available for staff who do not feel able to raise concerns about child protection failures internally (see the front of this policy for the relevant contact details). Staff may also report concerns direct to the school's local authority or to the charity commission if they consider that the school has failed to deal with concerns appropriately.

8 Reporting obligations of staff

8.1 Reporting obligations generally

8.1.1 Staff members should maintain an attitude of "it could happen here" where safeguarding is concerned. When concerned about the welfare of a pupil, staff members should always act in the best interests of the pupil.

8.1.2 All staff have a duty to:

- (a) Report any concerns they may have about the safety and / or well-being of pupils.
- (b) Report any concerns they may have about the safety and / or well-being of other persons associated with the school.
- (c) Report any safeguarding concerns about staff or anyone else associated with the school; and
- (d) Follow up on any such reports to ensure that appropriate action is or has been taken.

8.1.3 The procedures for doing so are set out below. If staff are unsure about the appropriate process to use, they should not hesitate to speak to the DSL, any member of the SLT senior leadership team or directly to children's social care (whether the school's local authority or that local to the child's home address) or police in their absence for guidance.

8.2 What to do if staff have a concern about a pupil's welfare

8.2.1 If staff have any concern about a pupil's welfare, they should report their concern to the DSL (or the DDSL in the DSL's absence) immediately.

- (a) The contact details of the DSL and DDSL are set out in the contacts list at the front of this policy.
- (b) See paragraph 23 below for guidance about what to do when receiving a disclosure and recording a concern.

8.2.2 A concern about a child is not defined and should be interpreted broadly. It may relate to a recognition that a child would benefit from extra support to an emerging problem or to a potentially unmet need or may reflect a concern that a child may be deemed to be "in need" or at "immediate risk of harm" as defined by the children act 1989.

8.2.3 Teachers must report known cases of female genital mutilation (FGM) to the police. See <https://www.islingtonscp.Org.Uk/professionals/key-practice-guidance/harmful-practices> for further information about FGM and this reporting duty. All other staff should refer FGM concerns to the DSL.

8.2.4 If the concern involves an allegation or concern raised about a member of staff, supply staff, contractors or volunteers this must be reported in accordance with the procedures set out in and parts 1 and 4 of KCSIE.

8.2.5 What if the DSL is unavailable?

- (a) The DSL or the DDSL should always be available to discuss safeguarding concerns and may be contacted on their mobile phones in relation to any safeguarding concerns out of school hours.
- (b) If in exceptional circumstances the DSL and DDSL are unavailable, staff must not delay taking action. Staff should speak to their line manager or a member of the SLT and / or advice should be taken from children's social care. Their contact details are set out at the front of this policy.
- (c) Where a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer from harm, a referral to children's social care and / or police should be made immediately. Staff should be aware of the process for making referrals direct to children's social care and / or the police in these circumstances. See section 11 below for further details on making a referral.
- (d) Any action taken by a member of staff pursuant to this requirement should then be shared with the DSL or DDSL, or a member of the SLT, as soon as is practically possible.

8.3 Action by the DSL

8.3.1 On receipt of a report of a concern, the DSL will consider the appropriate course of action in accordance with the appropriate local safeguarding partners procedures and referral threshold document. Such action may include:

- (a) Managing any support for the pupil internally via the school's own pastoral support processes, seeking advice from children's social care where required (see 9 below).
 - (b) Undertaking an early help assessment (which generally requires parental consent) (see 10 below); or
 - (c) Making a referral for statutory services (see 11 below).
- 8.3.2 The views of the child will be taken into account when considering the appropriate course of action but will not be determinative.
- 8.3.3 If it is decided that a referral is not required, the DSL will keep the matter under review and give ongoing consideration to a referral if the pupil's situation does not appear to be improving.

9 Managing support for pupils internally

- 9.1 The school has a framework for assessing, managing and reviewing risk (our risk assessment policy) which includes consideration to pupil welfare so that appropriate action can be taken to reduce the risks identified. See also section 22
- 9.2 The school will ensure that appropriate advice and consultation is sought about the management of safeguarding issues, including advice from CSC where necessary. The school is aware of the NCPP when to call the police: guidance for schools and colleges.
- 9.3 The school is also aware of and will follow the Islington safeguarding children partnership procedures in relation to children who are at risk of harm as a result of their own behaviour: <https://www.islingtonscb.org.uk/key-practice-guidance/pages/education-and-safeguarding-education.aspx>

10 Early help

- 10.1 Early help, also known as early intervention, is support for children of all ages that improves a family's resilience and outcomes or reduces the chance of a problem getting worse. It can be provided at any stage of a child or young person's life to parents, children or whole families, and is generally supported by CSC in consultation with the family.
- 10.2 The school understands that providing early help is more effective in promoting the welfare of children than reacting later.
- 10.3 The school's safeguarding training includes guidance about early help processes and prepares all staff to identify children who may benefit from early help. Staff are mindful of specific safeguarding issues and those pupils who may face additional safeguarding challenges. Staff should be particularly alert to the potential need for early help for a child who:
- 10.3.1 Is disabled or has certain health conditions and has specific additional needs.
 - 10.3.2 Has special educational needs (whether or not they have a statutory education, health and care plan).

- 10.3.3 Has a mental health need.
 - 10.3.4 Is a young carer (the school will refer to family action islingtonandcamdenyoungcarersreferrals@family-action.Org.Uk if it is suspected a child has caring responsibilities. Further information and advice can be obtained by contacting: 020 7226 6933).
 - 10.3.5 Is pregnant or is a parent themselves
 - 10.3.6 has exhibited early signs of abusive, violent and/or harmful behaviours
 - 10.3.7 Is showing signs of being drawn into anti-social or criminal behaviour, including gang involvement and association with organised crime groups or county lines.
 - 10.3.8 Is frequently missing / goes missing from education, care or from home.
 - 10.3.9 has been repeatedly removed from the classroom, experienced multiple suspensions, is on a part-time timetable, is at risk of being permanently excluded from schools, colleges and in Alternative Provision or a Pupil Referral Unit
 - 10.3.10 Is at risk of modern slavery, trafficking sexual or criminal exploitation.
 - 10.3.11 Is at risk of being radicalised or exploited.
 - 10.3.12 Has a parent or carer in custody or is affected by parental offending.
 - 10.3.13 Is in a family circumstance presenting challenges for the child, such as substance abuse, adult mental health problems or domestic abuse.
 - 10.3.14 Is misusing drugs or alcohol themselves.
 - 10.3.15 Is looked after or has returned home to their family from care.
 - 10.3.16 Is at risk of 'honour' based abuse such as female genital mutilation or forced marriage.
 - 10.3.17 Is a privately fostered child; and
 - 10.3.18 Is persistently absent from education including persistent absences for part of the school day.
- 10.4 A member of staff who considers that a pupil may benefit from early help should keep a written record of their concerns and in the first instance discuss this with the DSL (see paragraph 23 below and for further guidance).
 - 10.5 All staff should be aware of the process for community-based Family Help assessments:
 - the criteria, including the level of need, for when a case should be referred to Family Help support and services provided at:
 - Targeted early help level (under sections 10 and 11 of the Children Act 2004), and

- Statutory services delivered under section 17 of the Children Act 1989 (children in need, including how this applies for disabled children)
 - the criteria, including the level of need, for when a case should be referred to local authority children's social care for assessment and for statutory services under Section 47 of the Children Act 1989 (reasonable cause to suspect a child is suffering or likely to suffer significant harm)
 - Section 31 of the Children Act 1989 (care and supervision orders), and
 - Section 20 of the Children Act 1989 (duty to accommodate a child)
 - and clear procedures and processes for cases relating to: the abuse, neglect, and exploitation of children; children managed within the youth secure estate; disabled children
- 10.6 The DSL will consider the appropriate action to take in accordance with the child's safeguarding children partners menu of early help services and their referral threshold document and will support staff in liaising with parents and other agencies and setting up an inter-agency assessment as appropriate. This may involve contacting the early help assessment support team (telephone: 020 7527 4343) to check whether an assessment has been completed in which case the DSL will contact the lead professional and update the assessment.
- 10.7 If early help is appropriate, staff may be required to support other agencies and professionals in an early help assessment and will be supported by the DSL in carrying out this role. In some cases, school staff may be required to take a lead role.
- 10.8 Team around the child (TAC): after gaining consent from the child/family to share information gathered from discussions, relevant professionals will be invited to come together in a TAC to assess the child's needs and decide with the child/family a course of action to provide the services needed. A TAC is a multi-disciplinary team of practitioners established on a case-by-case basis to support a child, young person or family.
- 10.9
- 10.10 TAC supports particular elements of good professional practice in joined-up working, information sharing and early intervention. The TAC is a model of service delivery that involves:
- 10.10.1 A joined-up assessment.
 - 10.10.2 A lead professional (LP) to coordinate the work.
 - 10.10.3 The child/young person and family at the centre of the process
 - 10.10.4 A virtual or flexible multi-agency team that will change as needs change.
 - 10.10.5 Coordination at the point of delivery
 - 10.10.6 A TAC support plan to meet the needs of the child/young person.

10.10.7 Regular meetings to which the child/young person and families are invited to attend.

- 10.11 The matter will be kept under review and consideration given to a referral to children's social care for assessment for statutory services if the pupil's situation appears to be getting worse or does not appear to be improving.

11 Making a referral

- 11.1 Where a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer from harm, a referral to children's social care (and if appropriate the police) should be made immediately.

- 11.2 "Harm" is the "ill treatment or impairment of the health or development of a child."⁴ Seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another person is also a form of harm. It can be determined "significant" by "comparing a child's health and development with what might be reasonably expected of a similar child."

- 11.3 The contact details for the school's CSC team are set out at the front of this policy. Staff should bear in mind that referrals may be required to the school's CSC team and /or the pupil's CSC team.

- 11.4 Anyone can make contact with CSC to discuss concerns before a referral is made. This includes professional as well as a child themselves, family members and members of the public. The child's local safeguarding partnership will have a threshold of need framework and guidance which will provide more information which can support decision making in relation to contacting CSC.

11.5 Statutory assessments

- 11.5.1 Children's social care may undertake a statutory assessment under the children act 1989 into the needs of the child. It is likely that the person making the referral will be asked to contribute to this process. Statutory assessments include:

- (a) Children in need: A child in need is a child who is unlikely to achieve or maintain a reasonable level of health or development, or whose health and development is likely to be significantly or further impaired, without the provision of services; or a child who is disabled. Children in need may be assessed under section 17 of the children act 1989.
- (b) Children suffering or likely to suffer significant harm: local authorities have a duty to make enquiries under section 47 of the children act 1989 if they have reasonable cause to suspect that a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm.

- 11.6 Anybody can make a referral. Staff required to make a direct referral may find helpful the flowchart set out in KCSIE and the flowcharts set out in chapter 1 of WTSC for information about the likely actions and decisions required.

11.7 Parental consent is not required for referrals to statutory agencies, but staff will need to have access to certain information about the child and the safeguarding concern in order to make the referral. In general terms, this information will comprise:

11.7.1 Personal details of the child including the child's developmental needs.

11.7.2 Detailed information about the concern.

11.7.3 Information about the child's family and siblings including the capacity of the child's parents or carers to meet the child's developmental needs and any external factors that may be undermining their capacity to parent.

11.8 If the referral is made by telephone, this should be followed up in writing.

11.9 If the referral is made by someone other than the DSL, the DSL should be informed of the referral as soon as possible.

11.10 Confirmation of the referral and details of the decision as to what course of action will be taken should be received from the local authority within one working day. If this is not received, the DSL (or the person that made the referral) should contact children's social care again (the referral will be followed up in writing by the DSL within 24 hours to csctreferrals@islington.Gov.Uk).

11.11 Following a referral, if the child's situation does not appear to be improving, the local escalation procedures should be followed to ensure that the concerns have been addressed and that the child's situation improves, in accordance with the procedures set out in .

12 Allegations against pupils - child on child / child on child abuse

12.1 Allegations against pupils should be reported in accordance with the procedures set out in this policy in . If harmful sexual behaviour is alleged to have occurred, the DSL will have regard to part 5 of KCSIE and take into account the local response of the police and children's social care to these issues. The views of the alleged victim will be taken into account but will not be determinative. Staff should explain to children that the law is in place to protect them rather than criminalise them. This should be done with tact to avoid alarming or distressing them.

12.2 all those involved in such allegations will be treated as being at risk and in need of support and the safeguarding procedures in accordance with this policy will be followed. Appropriate support will be provided to all pupils involved, including support from external services as necessary.

13 Extra-familial harm

13.1 Safeguarding incidents and / or behaviours can be associated with factors outside the school and / or can occur between children outside the school.

13.2 All staff, including the DSL, should consider the context within which such incidents and / or behaviours occur, for example where wider environmental factors are present in a child's life that may be a threat to their safety and / or welfare, and should record these appropriately.

- 13.3 Children's social care should be informed of all such information to allow any assessment process to consider all available evidence and the full context of any abuse.
- 13.4 Extra-familial harm: all staff, but especially the DSL (and deputies) should consider whether children are at risk of abuse or exploitation in situations outside their families. Extra-familial harms take a variety of different forms and children can be vulnerable to multiple harms including (but not limited to) sexual exploitation, criminal exploitation, sexual abuse, serious youth violence and county lines.
- 14 Risk assessment.
- 14.1 Where a concern about a pupil's welfare is identified, the risks to that pupil's welfare will be assessed and appropriate action will be taken to reduce the risks identified.
- 14.2 The format of risk assessment may vary and may be included as part of the school's overall response to a welfare issue, including the use of individual pupil welfare plans (such as behaviour, healthcare and education plans, as appropriate). Regardless of the form used, the school's approach to promoting pupil welfare will be systematic and pupil focused.
- 14.3 The headteacher has overall responsibility for ensuring that matters which affect pupil welfare are adequately risk assessed and for ensuring that the relevant findings are implemented, monitored and evaluated.
- 14.4 Day to day responsibility to carry out risk assessments under this policy will be delegated to the DSL who has been properly trained in, and tasked with, carrying out the particular assessment.
- 15 What to do if staff have a safeguarding concern about someone else's welfare
- 15.1 Staff who have safeguarding concerns about the welfare of others or any other safeguarding issue not expressly covered by this policy, should report them.
- 15.2 In the absence of an express procedure about reporting, they should report such concerns to their line manager or the DSL in the first instance.
- 16 Allegations made and or / concerns raised about staff and others in school.
- 16.1 The school has procedures for dealing with allegations made and/or concerns raised about staff or anyone working in the school, including supply teachers, volunteers and contractors.⁵
- 16.2 The procedures in this policy apply to staff who pose a risk of harm to children or may behave in a way that indicates that they may be unsuitable to work with children. They also apply to low level concerns that do not meet the harms threshold. The procedures aim to strike a balance between the need to protect children from abuse and the need to protect staff from malicious, unfounded, false, or unsubstantiated allegations. These procedures are set out in and follow the guidance in parts 1 and 4 of KCSIE.

⁵ This also now refers to low-level concerns to reflect content in KCSIE

16.3 The school will follow its employment procedures for dealing with any other safeguarding concern raised about staff, involving external agencies as appropriate.

16.4 Detailed guidance is provided to staff to ensure that all staff are clear on the rules of conduct and the expectations of the school in relation to contact with pupils, parents, colleagues and any other person who comes into contact with the school. This guidance is contained in the employee code of conduct and includes details of additional safeguarding arrangements where staff engage in one-to-one teaching and meetings with pupils.

16.5 Organisations or individuals using school premises.

As with all safeguarding allegations, the school should follow the safeguarding policies.

And procedures, including informing the local authority designated officer (LADO).

17 Informing parents

17.1 Parents will normally be kept informed, as appropriate, of any action to be taken under these procedures. However, there may be circumstances when the DSL will need to consult the headteacher, the designated officer(s), children's social care, the police and / or the pupil before discussing details with parents.

17.2 In all cases, the DSL will be guided by the Islington safeguarding children partnerships referral threshold document.

17.3 See also for details about the disclosure of information where an allegation has been made against a member of staff.

18 Additional reporting

18.1 In addition to the reporting requirements explained above, the school will consider whether it is required to report safeguarding incidents to any other regulatory body or organisation, including but not limited to:

18.1.1 Health and safety executive

- (a) The school is legally required under RIDDOR to report certain incidents to the health and safety executive. Please see the school's health and safety policy for further details about this.

18.1.2 Charity commission

- (a) The school is a registered charity and will report all serious incidents to the charity commission promptly in accordance with the guidance how to report a serious incident in your charity \(charity commission, June 2019\).

18.1.3 Disclosure and barring service (DBS)

- (a) A referral to the DBS will be made promptly if the criteria are met. See , 8.1 - 8.2 for further details.

18.1.4 Teaching regulation agency (TRA)

- (a) Separate consideration will be given as to whether a referral to the TRA should be made where a teacher has been dismissed or would have been dismissed if he / she had not resigned. See , 8.3for more details.

18.1.5 Ofsted

- (a) The school will inform Ofsted of any allegations of serious harm or abuse by any person living, working or looking after children on the premises of the EYFS provision registered with Ofsted (whether that allegation relates to harm or abuse committed on the premises or elsewhere), and will provide details of the action taken in respect of those allegations. See , 7for more details.

18.1.6 Insurers

- (a) The school will consider whether it is necessary to report a safeguarding incident to the relevant insurers and / or brokers. It may be necessary to report to a number of insurers as there may be concurrent cover under existing and historic policies. However, insurers are no part of the safeguarding process.
- (b) Care should be taken to ensure this is done before renewal to ensure that the school complies with its duties under the insurance act 2015. If the school is in any doubt with regard to the correct insurer and / or policy and / or if it is unable to locate the relevant insurer, professional advice should be sought.

19 Safer recruitment and supervision of staff

- 19.1 The school is committed to practising safer recruitment in checking the suitability of staff (including staff employed by another organisation). See the school's separate recruitment, selection and vetting policy. The school will inform shortlisted candidates that online searches may be done as part of pre-recruitment checks.
- 19.2 The school maintains a single central register of appointments for all staff.
- 19.3 Staff connected to the school's early years and later years provisions are under an ongoing duty to inform the school if their circumstances changed which would mean they meet any of the criteria for disqualification under the childcare act 2006. Staff should refer to the school's recruitment, selection and vetting policy for further information about this duty and to their contract of employment in respect of their ongoing duty to update the school.
- 19.4 The school's protocol for ensuring that visiting speakers are suitable and appropriately supervised is set out in the school's separate risk assessment policy.

- 19.5 As part of ongoing vigilance, the school should create the right culture, so staff feel comfortable discussing safeguarding matters that happen in and outside of school (including online).

20 Use of mobile technology (including in the EYFS)

- 20.1 The school's policy on the use of mobile technology, including phones, cameras and other electronic devices with imaging and sharing capabilities, in the school, is as follows:

20.1.1 The school's acceptable use policy sets out the expectations on pupils from Nursery to Year 6. In all settings, pupils are not permitted to bring mobile phones or any mobile device with a camera facility onto the premises.

20.1.2 All staff (including staff in the EYFS setting) should use mobile devices and cameras in accordance with the guidance set out in the staff code of conduct and mobile phone and electronic devices policy.

20.1.3 Parents of all pupils (including parents of pupils in the EYFS setting) may bring mobile devices onto the premises but may only take photographs during events such as plays, concerts or sporting events for personal use. Parents should be reminded that the publication of such images (including on personal social networking sites even where access to the image may be limited) may be unlawful.

20.1.4 Use of mobile phones and other electronic devices with imaging and sharing capabilities in early years and key stage 1 and 2

20.1.4.1 this guidance refers to all electronic devices able to take pictures, record videos, send or receive calls and messages (including cameras, mobile telephones, tablets, smart watches and call/message enabled fit bits).

20.1.4.2 personally owned mobile phones cannot be used when in the presence of children on school premises.

20.1.4.3 staff may only use their mobile phones in their break times in adult only locations on site where children are not present.

20.1.4.4 staff must not take video footage or photographs of pupils except for the children's house school purposes.

20.1.4.5 school's iPad only should be used to document children's achievements and progress.

- 20.2 The school allows access to the internet onsite. Appropriate internet safety measures are taken to manage associated risks, including use of filters and monitoring of usage.

- 20.3 The school's approach to online safety is set out in the school's Online Safety Policy and acceptable use policy for pupils and staff.

21 Training

21.1 The school ensures that regular guidance and training is arranged on induction and at regular intervals thereafter so that staff understand what is expected of them by this policy and have the necessary knowledge and skills to carry out their roles⁶.

21.2 The level and frequency of training depends on the role of the individual member of staff.

21.3 The school maintains written records of all staff training.

21.4 All training will be carried out in accordance with the Islington safeguarding children partnership procedures where possible.

21.5 Induction

21.5.1 All staff, including temporary staff and volunteers, will be provided with induction training that includes (and where relevant includes the provision of copies of):

⁶To reflect good practice the school may wish to check that its policies and procedures include reference to training provided to its staff to ensure that they have a basic understanding of safeguarding, including the identity of the School's DSL

21.6 Safeguarding training

- 21.6.1 Staff not working directly with children will receive a copy of this policy and, where determined appropriate by the proprietor, annex A of KCSIE and will be required to confirm that they have read and understand these.
- 21.6.2 School leaders and all staff working directly with children will receive a copy of this policy and part 1 and where appropriate, annex B of KCSIE, and will be required to confirm that they have read and understand these.
- 21.6.3 Members of the SLT (including the headteacher) and the nominated safeguarding lead will receive a copy of this policy and be expected to read all of KCSIE. All other governors should read part 1 and 2 of KCSIE.
- 21.6.4 The headteacher and all staff members will undertake appropriate safeguarding training which will be updated at least annually and following consultation with the Islington safeguarding partners⁷. In addition, all staff members will receive informal safeguarding and child protection updates including online safety via email, ebulletins (including Islington's safeguarding children in education monthly newsletters and weekly blogs) and staff meetings on a regular basis and at least annually.

As part of that training the nominated safeguarding leads and chair will be expected to read the entirety of KCSIE. All other council members will be expected to read part 1 and 2 of KCSIE.
- 21.6.8 The school has mechanisms in place to assist staff to understand and discharge their role and responsibilities and to ensure that they have the relevant knowledge, skills and experience to safeguard children effectively, including questionnaires, staff meetings and professional development reviews within supervision meetings. This includes information on how staff can report concerns occurring out of hours /out of term time.

21.6.9 Designated safeguarding lead (DSL)

- (a) The DSL should take lead responsibility for safeguarding and child protection (including online safety and understanding the filtering and monitoring systems and processes in place). This should be explicit in the role holder's job description.
- (b) The DSL and deputy DSL will undertake training to provide them with the knowledge and skills required to carry out the role. This training includes inter-agency working and prevent awareness training and will be updated at least every two years.
- (c) In addition, their knowledge and skills will be refreshed at regular intervals, at least annually, to allow them to understand and keep up with any developments relevant to their role. For further details about the training of the DSL, see annex C of KCSIE.
- (d) Prevent duty training will be consistent with the government's prevent training for schools. See educate against hate (HM government, 2018) for further details.
- (e) The governing body and proprietors should ensure the designated safeguarding lead has the appropriate status and authority within the school or college to carry out the duties of the post. The role carries a significant level of responsibility and the postholder should be given the additional time, funding, training, resources, and support needed to carry out the role effectively. Their additional responsibilities include providing advice and support to other staff on child welfare, safeguarding and child protection matters, taking part in strategy discussions and inter-agency meetings, and/or supporting other staff to do so, and contributing to the assessment of children. Any deputy (or deputies) should be trained to the same standard as the designated safeguarding lead. Whilst the activities of the designated safeguarding lead can be delegated to appropriately trained deputies, the ultimate lead responsibility for child protection, as set out above, remains with the designated safeguarding lead, this lead responsibility should not be delegated. For further details about the DSL's role and responsibilities see annex C of KCSIE.

21.6.10 Teaching pupils about safeguarding

- (a) The school teaches pupils about safeguarding through the curriculum and PSHE. This includes guidance on adjusting behaviour to reduce risks, particularly online, building resilience to protect themselves and their peers, fostering healthy and respectful relationships with others and providing information about who they should turn to for help.

- (b) The school recognises that a one size fits all approach may not be appropriate for children, and a more personalised or contextualised approach for more vulnerable children, victims of abuse and some SEND children might be needed.
- (c) Pupils are taught about harmful sexual behaviours, including sexual violence and sexual harassment, through PSHE policy and RSE policy together with PSHE education appropriate to their age and stage of development. It will tackle issues such as: healthy and respectful relationships, what respectful behaviour looks like, consent, gender roles, stereotyping, equality, body confidence and self-esteem, prejudiced behaviour, that sexual violence and sexual harassment is always wrong, and addressing cultures of sexual harassment.
- (d) Pupils are given the opportunity to talk about safeguarding issues within the classroom environment and are made aware of the processes by which any concerns they have can be raised, including the processes for reporting a concern about a friend or peer, and how any report will be handled.
- (e) The safe use of technology is a focus in all areas of the curriculum and key ICT safety messages are reinforced as part of assemblies and tutorial / pastoral activities so that pupils learn how to keep themselves safe on-line and when accessing remote learning e.g. Through the school's platform seesaw. The school has appropriate filters and monitoring systems in place -using the filtering and monitoring standards as guidance (see the online safety policy) and is mindful that this should not lead to unnecessary restrictions on learning. The level of filtering and monitoring that happens in school should “block harmful and inappropriate content without unreasonably impacting teaching and learning” (paragraph 142 of KCSIE).

22 Monitoring and review

- 22.1 The DSL will ensure that the procedures set out in this policy and the implementation of these procedures are updated and reviewed regularly and at least annually, working with the proprietor as necessary and seeking contributions from staff. The DSL will update the senior management team regularly on the operation of the school's safeguarding arrangements.
- 22.2 Any safeguarding incidents at the school will be followed by a review of these procedures by the DSL and a report made to the proprietor. Where an incident involves a member of staff, the designated officer(s) will be asked to assist in this review to determine whether any improvements can be made to the school's procedures. Any deficiencies or weaknesses with regards to safeguarding arrangements at any time will be remedied without delay.
- 22.3 This policy will be updated whenever needed to ensure that it remains up to date with safeguarding issues as they emerge and evolve, including in relation to lessons learnt.
- 22.4 The proprietor will also undertake an annual review of this policy and the school's safeguarding procedures, including an update and review of the effectiveness of procedures and their implementation and the effectiveness of inter-agency working. It will also undertake an annual review of its approach to provision, supported by an annual risk assessment that considers and reflects the risks its pupils face. The governing body and the proprietor should review the filtering and monitoring standards for schools and colleges at least annually and discuss with IT staff and service providers that more needs to be done to support the school in meeting these standards.

- 22.5 The DSL will report termly to the council of management on child protection. In addition to this, the DSL will also work with the nominated safeguarding lead to prepare a written report commissioned by the proprietor which can be shared with Islington safeguarding children partnership on request. The written report should address how the school ensures that this policy is kept up to date; staff training on safeguarding; referral information; issues and themes which may have emerged in the school and how these have been handled, including lessons learned; and the contribution the school is making to multi-agency working in individual cases or local discussions on safeguarding matters. The proprietor should also consider independent corroboration, such as:

22.5.1 Inspection of records or feedback from external agencies including the designated officer(s).

22.5.2 Reports of ISI inspections.

22.5.3 The outcome of any relevant complaints, claims or related proceedings; and 22.5.4 Press reports.

- 22.6 The proprietor will review the report, this policy and the implementation of its procedures and consider the proposed amendments to the policy before giving the revised policy its final approval. Detailed minutes recording the review by the proprietor will be made.

23 Record keeping.

- 23.1 All concerns, discussions and decisions made and the reasons for those decisions should be recorded in writing. This should include instances where referrals were or not made to another agency such as LA children's social care or the Prevent program. Information should be kept confidential and stored securely. Concerns and referrals will be kept in a separate child protection file for each child. These should include:

23.1.1 A clear and comprehensive summary of the concern.

23.1.2 Details of how the concern was followed up and resolved.

23.1.3 A note of any action taken, decisions reached and the outcome.

- 23.2 The information created in connection with this policy may contain personal data. The school's use of this personal data will be in accordance with data protection law. The school has published on its website privacy notices which explain how the school will use personal data.

- 23.3 All records created in accordance with this policy are managed in accordance with the school's policies that apply to the retention and destruction of records.

- 23.4 Insofar as pupil records are concerned:

23.4.1 Staff must record all concerns about a pupil on the school's well-being manager or record of concern form.

23.4.2 The DSL will open a child protection file following a report to them of a child protection concern about a pupil. The DSL will record all discussions with both colleagues and external agencies, decisions made and the reasons for them and detail of the action taken in the school's record of concern tracking form (the school's pro forma record which is available in the safeguarding folder in the school office). The DSL is also responsible for maintaining the chronology sheet for a child for whom a concern has been raised (see pro forma at).

23.5 Information sharing and multi-agency working.

23.5.1 The school will treat all safeguarding information with an appropriate level of confidentiality, only involving others where appropriate. The school will always act in order to safeguard and promote the welfare of others.

23.5.2 The school understands that information sharing is essential for effective safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people, including their educational outcomes and does not need to meet a threshold before it can be shared. Fears about sharing information will not stand in the way of the need to promote the welfare, and protect the safety, of pupils, which is always the school's paramount concern. Schools have clear powers to share, hold and use information for these purposes and the UK GDPR and data protection act 2018 provide a framework to ensure that personal information is shared appropriately. The data protection laws do not prevent the sharing of information for the purposes of keeping children safe. Staff, governors and trustees must use the DfE's data protection guidance for schools to comply with data protection law; develop data policies and processes; know what staff and pupil data to keep; follow good practices for preventing personal data breaches.

23.5.3 When the school receives a request for safeguarding information (e.g. A subject access request from a parent or a request from the police), the school will carefully consider its response to make sure that any disclosure is in accordance with its obligations under the UK GDPR and data protection act 2018. The school will also have regard to its data protection policies. The school's data protection lead (Ellie Grunewald) will work with the DSL as appropriate to determine what should be disclosed.

23.5.4 The school must be proactive in sharing information as early as possible to help identify, assess and respond to risks or concerns about the safety and welfare of children, whether this is when problems are first emerging, or where a child is already known to local authority children's social care. Relevant information may relate not only to the child, but also to parents, carers, family members or other individuals connected to the child, where this may help inform safeguarding decisions.

23.5.5 When deciding what information to share, schools and colleges must consider: the relevancy of the information, including to the current safeguarding risk, what is necessary for the receiving setting to know, and whether it is clearly presented and appropriately contextualised.

- 23.5.6 When a pupil leaves the school, the designated safeguarding lead will make sure the pupil's child protection file is transferred to their new school or college as soon as possible (within 5 days). In addition to the child protection file, the designated safeguarding lead should also consider if it would be appropriate to share any information with the new school or college in advance of a child leaving particularly where the information would support an assessment of risk to others in the school as well as the individual pupil.
- 23.5.7 The school will co-operate with children's social care, and where appropriate the police, to ensure that all relevant information is shared for the purposes of early help assessments, and assessments and child protection investigations under the children act 1989.
- 23.5.8 Where allegations have been made against staff, the school will consult with the designated officer(s) and, where appropriate, the police and children's social care to agree the information that should be disclosed and to whom.
- 23.5.9 While the school will share information with those involved where and when it is appropriate to do so, they may be unable to for reasons of data protection and confidentiality, for example because to do so may pose a risk of harm to others or because it has been prohibited by external agencies.

Forms of abuse, neglect and exploitation and specific safeguarding risks

Abuse, neglect and exploitation

Staff should be aware that abuse, neglect, exploitation, modern slavery and safeguarding issues are rarely standalone events that can be covered by one definition or label and in most cases, multiple issues will overlap with one another, therefore staff should always be vigilant and always raise any concerns with the DSL (or deputy).

All staff, but especially the designated safeguarding lead (and deputies) should consider whether children are at risk of abuse or exploitation in situations outside their families. Extra familial harms take a variety of different forms and children can be vulnerable to multiple harms including (but not limited to) sexual abuse (including harassment and exploitation), domestic abuse in their own intimate relationships (teenage relationship abuse - including physical, sexual, emotional abuse, and stalking), criminal exploitation (including financial exploitation), serious youth violence, county lines and radicalisation. It includes physical, sexual, and emotional abuse, stalking and financial exploitation.

All staff should be aware that technology is a significant component in many safeguarding and wellbeing issues. Children are at risk of abuse and other risks online as well as face to face. In many cases abuse and other risks will take place concurrently both online and offline.

Children can also abuse their peers online, this can take the form of abusive, harassing, and misogynistic messages, the non-consensual sharing of indecent images, especially around chat groups, and the sharing of abusive images and pornography, to those who do not want to receive such content.

Definitions of abuse and neglect Abuse: a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse, including where they see, hear or experience its effects. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children.

Physical abuse: a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

Emotional abuse: the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or "making fun" of what they say or how they communicate. May include verbal abuse(eg:

name-calling; criticism...) It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning or preventing the child from participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying and prejudiced-based or discriminatory bullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.

Sexual abuse involves forcing, causing or inciting a child to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. There are specific offences for children under 13, who can never provide valid consent to sexual activity and there are specific offences which make clear that sexual activity with a child under 16 is an offence, regardless of whether they agreed to that activity.

Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children. The sexual abuse of children by other children is a specific safeguarding issue (also known as child-on-child abuse) in education and all staff should be aware of it. The school policy and procedures can be found in.☐

Neglect: the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and / or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy, for example, as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate caregivers); ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment; or provide suitable education. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

Signs of abuse

Possible signs of abuse include, but are not limited to:

The pupil says she / she has been abused or asks a question or makes a comment which gives rise to that inference.

There is no reasonable or consistent explanation for a pupil's injury, the injury is unusual in kind or location or there have been a number of injuries and there is a pattern to the injuries.

The pupil's behaviour stands out from the group as either being extreme model behaviour or extremely challenging behaviour, or there is a sudden or significant change in the pupil's behaviour.

The pupil asks to drop subjects with a particular teacher and seems reluctant to discuss the reasons.

The pupil's development is delayed, the pupil loses or gains weight or there is deterioration in the pupil's general well-being.

The pupil appears neglected, e.g. Dirty, hungry, inadequately clothed.

The pupil is reluctant to go home, or has been openly rejected by his / her parents or carers; and

Inappropriate behaviour displayed by other members of staff or any other person working with children, for example inappropriate sexual comments; excessive one-to-one attention beyond the requirements of their usual role or responsibilities; or inappropriate sharing of images.

Mental health problems can also be a sign of abuse, neglect or exploitation.

The Islington safeguarding children partnership can provide advice on the signs of abuse and the DFE advice what to do if you're worried a child is being abused (march 2015) provides advice in identifying child abuse. The NSPCC website is also a good source of information and advice.

Specific safeguarding issues

All staff should have an awareness of safeguarding issues that can put children at risk of harm. Behaviours linked to issues such as drug taking and/or alcohol misuse, unexplainable and/or persistent absences from education, serious violence (including that linked to county lines), radicalisation and consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos.⁸ can be signs that children are at risk. Below are some safeguarding issues all staff should be aware of.

Statutory guidance acknowledges the following as specific safeguarding issues:

Child abduction and community safety incidents.

Children and the court system.

Children absent, as well as missing from education

Children with family members in prison.

Child criminal exploitation and child sexual exploitation

County lines

Modern slavery and the national referral mechanism.

Cybercrime

Domestic abuse

Homelessness

So-called "honour-based" abuse (including female genital mutilation and forced marriage)

Preventing radicalisation

Child on child / child on child abuse

Sexual violence and sexual harassment between children in schools and colleges

Upskirting

Guidance on children in further specific circumstances is also set out in the Islington safeguarding children partnership procedures on: <https://www.islingtonscp.Org.Uk/are-you-worried-about-a-child>

Further advice and links to guidance on these specific safeguarding issues can be found in annex B of KCSIE. Staff should be particularly aware of the safeguarding issues set out below.

Child abduction and community safety incidents

Child abduction is the unauthorised removal or retention of a minor from a parent or anyone with legal responsibility for the child. Child abduction can be committed by parents or other family members; by people known but not related to the victim (such as neighbours, friends and acquaintances); and by strangers.

Other community safety incidents in the vicinity of a school can raise concerns amongst children and parents, for example, people loitering nearby or unknown adults engaging children in conversation.

As children get older and are granted more independence (for example, as they start walking to school on their own) it is important they are given practical advice on how to keep themselves safe. Many schools provide outdoor-safety lessons run by teachers or by local police staff.

It is important that lessons focus on building children's confidence and abilities rather than simply warning them about all strangers. Further information is available at: www.Actionagainstabduction.Org and www.Clevernevergoes.Org.

Children and the court system

Children are sometimes required to give evidence in criminal courts, either for crimes committed against them or for crimes they have witnessed. There are two age-appropriate guides to support children 5-11-year-olds and 12-17 year olds. The guides explain each step of the process, support and special measures that are available. There are diagrams illustrating the courtroom structure and the use of video links is explained.

Making child arrangements via the family courts following separation can be stressful and entrench conflict in families. This can be stressful for children. The ministry of justice has launched an online child arrangements information tool with clear and concise information on the dispute resolution service. This may be useful for some parents and carers. Video links is explained.

Children with family members in prison

Approximately 200,000 children in England and Wales have a parent sent to prison each year. These children are at risk of poor outcomes including poverty, stigma, isolation and poor mental health. The national information centre on children of offenders, NICCO provides information designed to support professionals working with offenders and their children, to help mitigate negative consequences for those children.

Homelessness

Being homeless or being at risk of becoming homeless presents a real risk to a child's welfare. The designated safeguarding lead (and any deputies) should be aware of contact details and referral routes into the local housing authority so they can raise/progress concerns at the earliest opportunity. Indicators that a family may be at risk of homelessness include household debt, rent arrears, domestic abuse and anti-social behaviour, as well as the family being asked to leave a property. Whilst referrals and/or discussion with the local housing authority should be progressed as appropriate, and in accordance with local procedures, this does not, and should not, replace a referral into local authority children's social care where a child has been harmed or is at risk of harm.

The homelessness reduction act 2017 places a new legal duty on English councils so that everyone who is homeless or at risk of homelessness will have access to meaningful help including an assessment of their needs and circumstances, the development of a personalised housing plan, and work to help them retain their accommodation or find a new place to live. The following factsheets usefully summarise the new duties: homeless reduction act factsheets. The new duties shift the focus to early intervention and encourages those at risk to seek support as soon as possible, before they are facing a homelessness crisis.

In most cases school and college staff will be considering homelessness in the context of children who live with their families, and intervention will be on that basis. However, it should also be recognised in some cases 16- and 17-year-olds could be living independently from their parents or guardians, for example through their exclusion from the family home, and will require a different level of intervention and support. Local authority children's social care will be the lead agency for these children and the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) should ensure appropriate referrals are made based on the child's circumstances. The department for levelling up, housing and communities have published joint statutory guidance on the provision of accommodation for 16- and 17-year-olds who may be homeless and/or require accommodation.

Mental health

All staff should be aware that mental health problems can, in some cases, develop into safeguarding concerns. This could include self-harm, suicidal ideation or risk of suicide. They could also be an indicator that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation.

Only appropriately trained professionals should attempt to make a diagnosis of a mental health problem. Education staff, however, still have an important role to play. Specifically, they can support the fulfilment of 4 key roles:

- promoting good mental wellbeing and preventing the onset of mental illness,
- observing pupils and identifying early those who may be experiencing mental health problems or being at risk of developing one,
- ensuring early targeted support is provided, and

- liaison with/referral to specialist services where needed.

Where support is needed, the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) should consider whether to inform parents or carers to support the child's wellbeing, where doing so would not place the child at additional risk.

If a child is struggling with their mental health, self-harming, has an eating disorder or is experiencing suicidal ideation and making plans to end their life, there are likely to be potential warning signs which education staff are well placed to recognise. These could include:

- significant changes in behaviour,
- ongoing difficulty sleeping,
- withdrawing from social situations,
- not wanting to do things they usually like, and
- physical signs of self-harm or neglecting themselves.

Not every child who exhibits these behaviours is suicidal or has a mental health concern. However, by identifying these and other potential warning signs, education staff can identify children who may be struggling with their mental health and contemplating suicide and offer support and vital early intervention. Schools and colleges should ensure that any interventions they offer are evidenced as safe and effective and appropriate for the need and phase of education.

If staff have a concern about a child's mental health that is also a safeguarding concern, they should follow their child protection policy and speak to their designated safeguarding lead or deputy. If staff feel that a child is in danger, they should call 999 or arrange for them to be taken to A&E immediately by a parent/carer or other suitable person. If a child needs help urgently for their mental health, but it's not an emergency, staff can get help from NHS 111 online or call 111 and select the mental health option.

The Promoting children and young people's mental health and wellbeing guidance sets out how schools and colleges can help prevent mental health problems by promoting wellbeing and resilience as part of an integrated, whole school/college approach to social and emotional wellbeing, which is tailored to the needs of their pupils and learners. Schools can also access advice to help them identify children in need of extra mental health support. The NHS Every Mind Matters website also contains helpful information and advice about Looking after a child or young person's mental health. In addition, the Hub of Hope is the UK's leading mental health support database. It brings local, national, peer, community, charity, private and NHS mental health support and services together in one place, so that anyone struggling can find the most appropriate support.

The Children's House School is committed to promoting positive mental health and emotional wellbeing to all pupils, their families and members of staff. Our open culture and curriculum allow pupils' voices to be heard, and through the use of effective policies, procedures, including whole school approaches and specialised, targeted approaches aimed at vulnerable pupils, we ensure a safe and supportive environment for all. For more information and guidance, see the mental health and emotional wellbeing policy.

Modern slavery and the national referral mechanism

Modern slavery encompasses human trafficking and slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour. Exploitation can take many forms, including sexual exploitation, forced labour, slavery, servitude, forced criminality and the removal of organs.

Further information on the signs that someone may be a victim of modern slavery, the support available to victims and how to refer them to the NRM is available in statutory guidance. Modern slavery: how to identify and support victims - GOV.UK

Children who are absent from education

Children being absent from education for prolonged periods and/or on repeat occasions, as well as going missing, particularly persistently, can act as a vital warning sign of a range of safeguarding concerns and issues including neglect, sexual abuse and child sexual and criminal exploitation including involvement in county lines. School attendance registers are carefully monitored to identify any trends. Action should be taken in accordance with this policy if any absence of a pupil from the school gives rise to a concern about their welfare.

The school will educate pupils about the dangers of running away and encourage them to seek support rather than run away; some children run away because they feel there is no other option. Children and young people need to know where they can access help if they are thinking of running away and what alternatives are open to them. As a school, we are well placed to advise young people about the dangers of running away and to point them to available support.

Where reasonably possible the school will hold more than one emergency contact for each pupil.

The school shall inform the local authority of any pupil who is going to be added to or deleted from the school's admission register at non-standard transition points in accordance with the requirements of the education (pupil registration) (England) regulations 2006 (as amended).

Where the school removes a pupil from the admission register an off-rolling form must be completed and sent to the local authority by email: pupilservices@islington.gov.uk. The pro forma off-rolling notification form can be found at .

This will assist the local authority to:

Fulfil its duty to identify children of compulsory school age who are missing from education; and

Follow up with any child who might be in danger of not receiving an education and who might be at risk of abuse, neglect or radicalisation or involvement with serious violent crime.

The school shall inform the local authority through the missing pupil alert of any pupil who:

Fails to attend school regularly; or

Has been absent without the school's permission for a continuous period of ten school days or more, at such intervals as are agreed between the school and the local authority (or in default of such agreement, at intervals determined by the secretary of state).

Alternative Provision

Where a school places a pupil with an alternative provision provider, it continues to be responsible for the safeguarding of that pupil and should therefore be satisfied that the placement meets the pupils' needs.

The cohort of pupils in Alternative Provision often have complex needs; it is important that governing bodies and proprietors of these settings are aware of the additional risk of harm that their pupils may be vulnerable to. Schools should obtain written information from the alternative provider that appropriate safeguarding checks have been carried out on individuals working at their establishment (i.e. those checks that schools would otherwise perform on their own staff).

This includes written confirmation that the alternative provider will inform the commissioning school of any arrangements that may put the child at risk (i.e. staff changes), so that the commissioning school can assure itself that appropriate safeguarding checks have been carried out on new staff.

The department has published voluntary national standards for non-school alternative provision, alongside guidance to support schools and local authority commissioners in quality assuring providers. Local authorities may use the standards to develop a register of approved settings for use by schools. However, schools remain ultimately responsible for the provision they commission. This means schools must continue to carry out safeguarding checks and conduct their own due diligence to ensure that the provision is appropriate for meeting each child's individual needs.

Schools should always know where a child is based during school hours. This includes having records of the address of the alternative provider and any subcontracted provision or satellite sites the child may attend. They should regularly review the alternative provision placements they make. Reviews should be frequent enough (at least half termly) to provide assurance that the child is regularly attending, and the placement continues to be safe and meets the child's needs.

Where safeguarding concerns arise, the placement should be immediately reviewed, and terminated, if necessary, unless or until those concerns have been satisfactorily addressed. The department has issued two pieces of statutory guidance to which commissioners of Alternative Provision should have regard:

- Alternative Provision DFE statutory guidance, and
- Education for children with health needs who cannot attend school - GOV.UK (www.gov.uk) – DFE statutory guidance.

Elective home education (EHE)

Where a parent expresses their intention to remove a pupil from school with a view to educating at home, the school will work with the local authority and other key professionals to coordinate a meeting with parents where possible, ideally before a final decision has been made. This is to ensure parents have considered what is in the best interests of their child. This will be particularly important where a child has SEND, is vulnerable, and / or has a social worker.

If a parent/carer of a child with an education, health and care (EHC) plan has expressed their intention to educate their child at home, local authorities will need to review the plan and work closely with the parents/carers.

Elective home education can mean that some children are not in receipt of suitable education.

Many home educated children have a positive learning experience.

Child sexual exploitation (CSE) and child criminal exploitation (CCE)

Both CSE and CCE are forms of abuse where an individual or group (adult or another child) takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child into taking part in sexual or criminal activity and may involve :

An exchange for something the victim needs or wants e.g. Money, gifts or affection; and / or

For the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator; and / or Through violence or threat of violence to victims (and their families).

Children can be exploited by adult males or females, as individuals or in groups. They may be exploited by other children, who themselves may be experiencing exploitation - where this is the case, it is important that the child perpetrator is also recognised as a victim. This can also be committed or facilitated by an organised network or gang, and victims may identify as part of this group.

CSE and CCE can affect children of any sex and can include children who have been moved (commonly referred to as trafficking) for the purpose of exploitation. This may constitute modern slavery, and further information is available in the Modern Slavery statutory guidance. In accordance with this guidance, a relevant child protection and modern slavery referral should be completed where a potential victim of CCE or CSE is identified.

International pupils may be particularly vulnerable to trafficking, particularly those who are or will be in the UK without their parent(s) or legal guardian, and schools which hold a child student sponsor licence may be targeted by traffickers as a means of facilitating a child's entry to the UK for the purposes of CSE or CCE.

The victim may have been exploited even if the activity appears consensual.

CCE can include children being coerced into moving drugs or money across the country (county lines), forced to shoplift or pickpocket, or to threaten other young people.

Some of the following can be indicators of both CSE and CCE, including children who:

- go missing (from school or home) and are subsequently found in areas away from their home
- have been the victim, perpetrator or alleged perpetrator of serious violence (e.g. knife crime)
- are involved in receiving requests for drugs via a phone line, moving drugs, handing over and collecting money for drugs

- are exposed to techniques such as 'plugging', where drugs are concealed internally to avoid detection
- are found in accommodation that they have no connection with, often called a 'trap house or cuckooing' or hotel room where there is drug activity
- owe a 'debt bond' to their exploiters
- have their bank accounts used to facilitate drug dealing.

CSE can be a one-off occurrence or a series of incidents over time and range from opportunistic to complex organised abuse. It can involve force and/or enticement-based methods of compliance and may, or may not, be accompanied by violence or threats of violence. It can be committed by an individual or an organised network. Most sexual abuse is committed by individuals known to the victim. Victims may be criminalised for actions taken under coercion.

For further local advice about CSE contact naomi.bannister@islington.gov.uk.

The victim may have been sexually exploited even if the sexual activity appears consensual. CSE does not always involve physical contact; it can also occur through the use of technology. CSE can include both contact (penetrative and non-penetrative acts) and non-contact sexual activity and may occur without the child or young person's immediate knowledge (e.g. Through others copying videos or images they have created and posted on social media). The above CCE indicators can also be indicators of CSE, as can children who:

Have older boyfriends or girlfriends; or

Suffer from sexually transmitted infections or become pregnant.

Further information on signs of a child's involvement in sexual exploitation is available in-home office guidance: Department for Education and Preventing Child Sexual Exploitation | The Children's Society

County lines

County lines⁸ is a term used to describe gangs and organised criminal networks involved in exporting illegal drugs (primarily crack cocaine and heroin) into one or more importing areas within the UK, using dedicated mobile phone lines or other form of "deal line". They are likely to exploit children and vulnerable adults to move store and sell drugs and money and they will often use coercion, intimidation, violence (including sexual violence) and weapons.

Children are increasingly being targeted and recruited online using social media. Children can easily become trapped by this type of exploitation as county lines gangs can manufacture drug debts which need to be worked off and can threaten serious violence and kidnap towards victims (and their families) if they attempt to leave the county lines network.

⁸See the Home Office's Preventing youth violence and gang involvement and its Criminal exploitation of children and vulnerable adults: county lines guidance for more information.

Number of the indicators for CSE and CCE as detailed above (and in annex B of KCSIE) may also be applicable to children involved in county lines.

Additional reporting duties:

If a child is suspected to be at risk of, or involved in county lines, a safeguarding referral should be considered alongside consideration of availability of local services / third sector providers who offer support to victims of county lines exploitation.

Where a pupil may have been trafficked for the purpose of transporting drugs, a referral to the national referral mechanism ⁹ should be considered.

Serious violence

Serious violence is a continuing safeguarding concern. It may involve physical assault, carrying, threatening with, or using weapons, often in the context of peer conflict or bullying, and it can also be associated with criminal exploitation. Staff should identify concerns early and act preventatively.

Staff should report any concerns about a child carrying or using a weapon (or expressing intent to do so) to the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy). The designated safeguarding lead should assess the risk to both the individual pupil and others in the school, considering wider information or concerns, and take appropriate action. Depending on the risk, they should put in place a safety and support plan, and where relevant, consider action to de-escalate peer conflict.

Our school plays a key role in protecting children from violence, safeguarding victims, as well as those who may be at risk of, or are involved in committing violence (who may also be victims themselves). Staff should be alert to signs that a child may be at risk of or involved in serious violence. These may include:

- increased absence from school or college,
- a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups,
- a significant decline in educational performance,
- signs of self-harm or a significant change in wellbeing, or signs of assault or unexplained injuries, and
- unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs and may be at risk of criminal exploitation.

The likelihood of involvement in serious violence may be increased by factors such as:

- being male,
- having been suspended, spent time in Alternative Provision or permanently excluded from school,
- having experienced child maltreatment,

⁹For further information and a definition of trafficking, see: National Crime Agency - modern slavery and human trafficking and the DfE and Home Office guidance: Trafficking: safeguarding children

- having been involved in offending, such as theft or robbery,
- having used drugs or alcohol in early adolescence, and
- having previously been a victim or previously perpetrated violence

These risks are higher for children with disrupted education (e.g. suspensions, permanent exclusions, time in alternative provision) or a history of offending. Schools should also try to be alert to when children might be at highest risk around the school day (for example, immediately after school).

Early, evidence-based support for those considered at risk, as well as at critical points when concerns emerge, is vital. This includes access to trusted adults, social and emotional skill support, and, where available, targeted interventions such as mentoring or therapeutic support (practical guidance on evidenced support is available from the Youth Endowment Fund (YEF) (the “what works” centre for preventing violence).

Cybercrime

Cybercrime is a criminal activity committed using computers and / or the internet. It's broadly categorised as either "cyber-enabled" (crimes that can happen off-line but enabled at scale and speed online e.g. Fraud, purchasing of illegal drugs, child sex abuse and exploitation) or "cyber-dependent" (crimes that can only be committed by using a computer).

Cyber-dependent crimes include:

Unauthorised access to computers (illegal hacking) e.g. Accessing a school's computer network to look for test papers or change grades awarded.

Denial of service (dos or ddos) attacks or "booting" - attempts to make a computer, network or website unavailable by overwhelming it with internet traffic.

Making, supplying or obtaining malware e.g. Viruses, spyware, ransomware, botnets and remote access trojans with intent to commit further offence.

Using another person's account/password

Deliberately accessing or changing school data

Cyber-enabled criminal activity.

Children with particular skills and interest in computing and technology may inadvertently or deliberately stray into cyber-dependent crime.

The DSL (or deputy) should consider referring into the cyber choices programme if they have concerns. This is a nationwide programme which intervenes when young people are at risk of committing, or being drawn into, low level cyber-dependent offences and divert them to a more positive use of their skills and interests.

The school is responsible for ensuring it has the appropriate level of security protection procedures in place in order to safeguard their systems, staff and learners and review the effectiveness of these procedures periodically to keep up with evolving cyber-crime technologies. Domestic abuse

The statutory definition of domestic violence and abuse is based on the previous cross-government definition: it is any incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening behaviour, violence or abuse between those aged 16 or over who are, or have been, intimate partners or family members regardless of gender or sexuality. The definition captures a range of different abusive behaviours, including physical, sexual, emotional and economic abuse and coercive and controlling behaviour. The domestic abuse act 2021 now recognises the impact of domestic abuse on children, as victims in their own right, if they see hear or experience the effects of abuse.

Types of domestic abuse include intimate partner violence, abuse by family members, teenage relationship abuse and child to parent or care giver abuse. Anyone can be a victim of domestic abuse, regardless of sexual identity, age, ethnicity, socio-economic status, sexuality or background and domestic abuse can take place inside or outside of the home.

All children can witness and be adversely affected by domestic abuse in the context of their home life where domestic abuse occurs between family members. Exposure to domestic abuse and / or violence can have a serious, long lasting emotional and psychological impact on children. In some cases, a child may blame themselves for the abuse or may have had to leave the family home as a result.

Further advice on identifying children who are affected by domestic abuse and how they can be helped can be found in annex B of KCSIE and <https://www.islingtonscp.Org.Uk/professionals/key-practice-guidance/domestic-violence>. This includes details about operation encompass which operates in all police forces across England, helping schools and police work together to provide emotional and practical help to children.

So-called "honour-based" abuse

All forms of so-called "honour-based" abuse are abuse (regardless of motivation) and should be handled and escalated as such. Abuse committed in the context of preserving "honour" often involves additional risk factors such as a wider network of family or community pressure and the possibility of multiple perpetrators which should be taken into account when deciding what safeguarding action to take. Staff should speak to the DSL if they have any doubts.

If appropriate, the DSL will activate local safeguarding procedures, using existing national and local protocols for multiagency liaison with police and children's social care.

Female genital mutilation (FGM)

FGM is a form of so-called "honour-based" abuse. It comprises all procedures involving partial or total removal of the external female genitalia or other injury to the female genital organs. It is illegal in the UK and a form of child abuse with long lasting harmful consequences.

There is a range of potential indicators that a child or young person may be at risk of FGM. Guidance on the warning signs that FGM may be about to take place, or may have already taken place, can be found on pages 38-43 of the multi-agency statutory guidance on FGM (HM government, July 2020) (pages 61-63 focus on the role of schools).

All staff must be aware of the requirement for teachers to report to the police where they discover (either through disclosure by the victim or visual evidence) that FGM appears to have been carried out on a girl under 18. The report should be made orally by calling 101, the single non-emergency number. Those failing to report such cases will face disciplinary sanctions. It will be rare for teachers to see visual evidence, and they should not be examining pupils. Unless the teacher has a good reason not to, they should still consider and discuss any such case with the DSL and involve children's social care as appropriate.

Any information or concern that a child is at immediate risk of or has undergone FGM should result in a child protection referral to the children's services contact team on 020 7527 7400. If there are concerns that a girl is going to be cut, the DSL should complete the ISCB FGM risk assessment tool: <https://www.Islington.Gov.Uk/~media/sharepoint-lists/public-records/communitysafetyandemergencies/information/adviceandguidance/20182019/20181004fgmriskassessmenttool1.Pdf> to identify the relevant indicators and inform further action.

If the teacher is unsure whether this reporting duty applies, they must refer the matter to the DSL in accordance with this policy. See the home office guidance mandatory reporting of female genital mutilation - procedural information \(January 2020\) for further details about the duty.

Guidance published by the department for health also provides useful information and support for health professionals which will be taken into account by the school's medical staff. The national FGM centre has also produced FGM guidance to help schools understand their role in safeguarding girls, engaging parents and teaching about FGM.

Forced marriage or any "marriage" under the age of 18.

Forced marriage is also a form of so-called "honour-based" abuse. Forcing a person into marriage is a crime in England and Wales. A forced marriage is one entered into without the full and free consent of one or both parties and where violence, threats or any other form or coercion is used to cause a person to enter into a marriage. Threats can be physical or emotional and psychological. A lack of full and free consent can be where a person does not consent or where they cannot consent (if they have learning disabilities, for example). Nevertheless, some communities use religion and culture as a way to coerce a person into marriage. It is illegal to marry before the age of 18, even if there is no violence, threats and other forms of coercion, and this applies to non-binding, unofficial "marriages" as well as legal marriages.

Guidance on the warning signs that forced marriage may be about to take place, or may have already taken place, can be found on pages 13-14 of the multi-agency guidelines: handling case of forced marriage (HM government, June 2014).

Staff should speak to the DSL if they have any concerns. Pages 32-36 of the multi-agency guidelines: handling case of forced marriage (HM government, June 2014) focus on the role of schools in detecting and reporting forced marriage and the forced marriage unit can be contacted on 020 7008 0151 or fmu@fco.Gov.Uk for advice and information. Further information and guidance can be obtained from the karma nirvana honour network helpline on 0800 5999 247.

The forced marriage unit (FMU) has created: multi-agency practice guidelines: handling cases of forced marriage (pages 75-80 of which focus on the role of schools and colleges) and, multi-agency statutory guidance for dealing with forced marriage, which can both be found at the right to choose: government guidance on forced marriage - GOV.UK (www.Gov.Uk) the right to choose

Radicalisation and the prevent duty.

The school has a legal duty to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism.

The school aims to build pupils' resilience to radicalisation by promoting fundamental British values and enabling them to challenge extremist views. Being drawn into terrorism includes not just violent extremism but also non-violent extremism, which can create an atmosphere conducive to terrorism and can popularise views which terrorists exploit. The school is committed to providing a safe space in which children, young people and staff can understand and discuss sensitive topics, including terrorism and the extremist ideas that are part of terrorist ideology, understand the risks associated with terrorism and develop the knowledge and skills to be able to challenge extremist arguments.

The school has adopted the government's definitions for the purposes of compliance with the prevent duty:

Extremism: "vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also include in our definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas".

Radicalisation: "the process of a person legitimising support for, or use of, terrorist violence."

Terrorism: "an action that endangers or causes serious violence to a person/people; causes serious damage to property; or seriously interferes or disrupts an electronic system. The use or threat must be designed to influence the government or to intimidate the public and made for the purpose of advancing a political, religious or ideological cause."

Prevent Duty: "the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism."

There is no single way of identifying an individual who is likely to be susceptible to an extremist ideology. Background factors combined with specific influences such as family and friends may contribute to a child's vulnerability. Radicalisation can occur through many different methods (such as social media) and settings (such as the internet).

It is possible to protect vulnerable people from extremist ideology and intervene to prevent those at risk of radicalisation being radicalised. As with managing other safeguarding risks, staff should be alert to changes in children's behaviour which could indicate that they may be in need of help or protection. School staff should use their professional judgement in identifying children who might be at risk of radicalisation and act proportionately which may include the DSL making a prevent referral.

Prevent referrals may be passed to a multi-agency channel panel, which will discuss the individual referred to determine whether they are vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism and consider the appropriate support required. An individual's engagement with the programme is entirely voluntary at all stages. Guidance on channel is available at: channel duty guidance: protecting vulnerable people from being drawn into terrorism (HM government, February 2021) the DFE and home office's briefing note the use of social media for online radicalisation (DFE, July 2015) includes information on how social media is used to radicalise young people and guidance on protecting pupils at risk.

Islington's prevent coordinator can be contacted to provide further advice. Contact details for this individual can be found on the external contact's table.

Child on child / child on child abuse

All staff should be aware that children can abuse other children (often referred to as child-on-child abuse) and that it can happen both inside and outside of school or online.

The school's policy and procedures for dealing with child-on-child abuse can be found below.

Online safety (see the online safety policy)

All staff should be aware that technology is a significant component in many safeguarding and wellbeing issues. Children are at risk of abuse online as well as face to face. In many cases abuse will take place concurrently via online channels and in daily life.

It is essential that children are safeguarded from potentially harmful and inappropriate online material. An effective, whole school approach to online safety empowers a school to protect and educate pupils, and staff in their use of technology and establishes mechanisms to identify, intervene in, and escalate any concerns where appropriate.

The breadth of issues classified within online safety is considerable, but can be categorised into four areas of risk:

content: being exposed to illegal, inappropriate, or harmful content, for example: pornography, racism, misogyny, self-harm, suicide, antisemitism, radicalisation, extremism, extreme sexual or physical violence, misinformation, disinformation (including fake news) and conspiracy theories, contact: being subjected to harmful online interaction with other users or generative AI applications that simulate this; for example: peer to peer pressure, commercial advertising and adults posing as children or young adults with the intention to groom or exploit them for sexual, criminal, financial or other purposes.

conduct: online behaviour that increases the likelihood of, or causes, harm; for example, making, sending and receiving explicit images, including those generated using AI and online bullying, commerce: risks such as online gambling, inappropriate advertising, phishing and or financial scams. If you feel your pupils, students or staff are at risk, please report it to the Anti-Phishing Working Group (<https://apwg.org/>).

The governing body and proprietor should ensure online safety is a running and interrelated theme whilst devising and implementing their whole school or college approach to safeguarding and related policies and procedures. This will include considering how online safety is reflected as required in all relevant policies and considering online safety whilst planning the curriculum, any teacher training, the role and responsibilities of the designated safeguarding lead (and deputies) and any parental engagement.

Guidance to support schools to understand safety considerations and legal responsibilities if they choose to use Generative AI (either teacher-facing or pupil-facing) can be found at Generative artificial intelligence in education. Using AI in education settings: support materials - GOV.UK

Filtering and monitoring

Whilst considering their responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and provide them with a safe environment in which to learn, the governing body and proprietor should be doing all that they reasonably can to limit children's exposure to the above risks from the school's or college's IT system. As part of this process, the governing body and proprietor should ensure their school has appropriate filtering and monitoring systems in place and regularly review their effectiveness. They should ensure that the leadership team and relevant staff have an awareness and understanding of the provisions in place and manage them effectively and know how to escalate concerns when identified. The governing body and proprietor should consider the number of and age range of their children, those who are potentially at greater risk of harm and how often they access the IT system along with the proportionality of costs versus safeguarding risks.

The appropriateness of any filtering and monitoring systems are a matter for individual schools and colleges and will be informed in part, by the risk assessment required by the prevent duty.

To support schools and colleges to meet this duty, the department for education has published filtering and monitoring standards <https://www.Gov.Uk/guidance/meeting-digital-and-technology-standards-in-schools-and-colleges/filtering-and-monitoring-standards-for-schools-and-colleges> which set out that schools and colleges should:

- Identify and assign roles and responsibilities to manage filtering and monitoring systems.
- Review filtering and monitoring provision at least annually. Reviews should be carried out by the SLT member responsible for filtering and monitoring, with the support of the school's DSL and IT support. They should include checks that filtering is working appropriately on all internet-connected devices in all relevant locations, and a record should be kept of these checks.
- Block harmful and inappropriate content without unreasonably impacting teaching and learning.
- Have effective monitoring strategies in place that meet their safeguarding needs

Schools can use the department's Plan technology for your school - GOV.UK to self- assess against the filtering and monitoring standards and receive personalised recommendations on how to meet them.

Governing bodies and proprietors should review the standards and discuss with IT staff and service providers what more needs to be done to support schools and colleges in meeting this standard.

Additional guidance on filtering and monitoring can be found at: UK safer internet centre: "appropriate" filtering and monitoring. Safer internet appropriate filtering and monitoring. South west grid for learning swgfl.Org.Uk have created a tool to check whether a school or college's filtering provider is signed up to relevant lists (CSA content, sexual content, terrorist content, your internet connection blocks child abuse & terrorist content).

23.6 Artificial Intelligence (AI)- The Children's House recognises that AI has many uses, including enhancing teaching and learning, and in helping to protect and safeguard pupils. However, AI may also have the potential to facilitate abuse (e.g. Bullying and Grooming) and/or expose pupils to harmful content. For example, in the form of 'Deepfakes', where AI is used to create images, audio or video hoaxes that look real.

Any AI tool used by the school should first be risk assessed.

The Children's House school will treat any use of AI to access harmful content or bully pupils in line with this policy and our anti-bullying and behaviour policies.

The Department has published Generative AI: product safety expectations - GOV.UK and explains how filtering and monitoring requirements apply to the use of generative AI in education.

Sharing nudes and semi-nude images and videos including where generated by AI

Consensual and non-consensual sharing of nudes and semi-nude images and /or videos can be signs that children are at risk.

"Sharing nudes and semi-nudes" means the taking and sending or posting of nude or semi-nude images, videos or live streams by young people under the age of 18 online. This could be via social media, gaming platforms, chat apps or forums. It can also involve sharing between devices offline e.g. Via apple's airdrop. This is also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery.

The school treats all incidences of sharing nudes and semi-nude images as safeguarding matters to be actioned in accordance with this policy.

Members of staff must not intentionally view any nude or semi-nude images which are reported to them, or copy, print or share the images under any circumstances. In referring any incident of sharing images, members of staff should describe the content of the images as reported to them.

The DSL may in exceptional circumstances view images with the prior approval of the headteacher and only where:

It is the only way to make a decision whether to involve other agencies, as there is insufficient information available as to its contents.

It is necessary to report the image to a website, app or suitable reporting agency to have it taken down, or to support the pupil or parent in making a report; or

A pupil has reported the image directly to a member of staff in circumstances where viewing the image is unavoidable or images have been found on the school's devices or network.

Where viewing an image is unavoidable:

Viewing should take place on school premises wherever possible.

The image should be viewed by a person of the same sex as the person alleged to be shown in the image (where this is known).

A senior member of staff should be present to monitor and support the person viewing the image. This member of staff should not view the image.

Full details of the viewing must be recorded in the school's safeguarding records, including who was present, the date and time, the nature of the image and the reasons for viewing it.

Any member of staff who views an indecent image should be given appropriate support.

If any devices need to be confiscated (whether in order to view the image(s) or to pass evidence to the appropriate authority), they should be turned off and locked away securely until they are required.

If an electronic device that is prohibited by the school rules has been seized and the member of staff has reasonable grounds to suspect that it contains evidence in relation to an offence, or that it contains a pornographic image of a child or an extreme pornographic image, the device will be given to the police.

If external agencies do not need to be involved, the school must consider the deletion of any images. Pupils should be asked to delete images themselves and to confirm that this is done. Members of staff should not search devices to delete images.

If images have been shared online and cannot now be deleted by the person who shared them, the school should consider reporting the images to the relevant web host or service provider (if an option is provided) or contacting the internet watch foundation or ChildLine (if the website does not provide this option).

Where a pupil receives unwanted images, the school should advise the pupil and his / her parents of options that may be available to block the sender or to change the pupil's mobile phone number or email address.

The UK council for internet safety's advice note sharing nudes and semi-nudes: advice for education settings working with children and young people (DCMS and UKCIS, December 2020) contains details of support agencies and provides further information for schools on how to responding to incidents of sexting.

The home office has published indecent images of children: guidance for young people (home office, November 2019) to help young people understand the law on indecent images of children and how to navigate the internet confidently and safely within legal boundaries.

Upskirting

Upskirting typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing (not necessarily a skirt) without their permission or knowledge, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks (with or without underwear) to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm. Anyone of any gender can be a victim.

Upskirting is a criminal offence. Attempting to commit an act of upskirting may also be a criminal offence e.g. If actions are taken to do something that is more than merely preparatory to committing the offence such as attempting to take a photograph on a telephone or camera but failing to do so because of lack of storage space or battery.

The school will treat incidences of upskirting as a breach of discipline and also as a safeguarding matter under the school's child protection procedures.

All matters relating to upskirting images and devices which may have been used in connection with an allegation of upskirting will be dealt with in a similar manner to sharing sexual images / sexting.

Special educational needs and disabilities or physical health issues

The school welcomes pupils with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) and will do all that is reasonable to ensure that the school's curriculum, ethos, culture, policies, procedures and premises are made accessible to everyone. See the school's policy on special educational needs and learning difficulties and disability policy.

Additional barriers can exist when detecting the abuse or neglect of pupils with SEND or certain health conditions that can create additional safeguarding challenges for those involved in safeguarding and promoting the welfare of this group of children. The school is mindful in particular that:

- assumptions that indicators of possible abuse such as behaviour, mood and injury relate to the child's condition without further exploration,
- these children being more prone to peer group isolation or bullying (including prejudice-based bullying) than other children,
- the potential for children with SEND or certain medical conditions being disproportionately impacted by behaviours such as bullying, without outwardly showing any signs,
- communication barriers and difficulties in managing or reporting these challenges risks that they do not understand that what is happening to them is abuse,
- the need for intimate care or that these children are isolated from others,
- that these children are more likely to be dependent on adults for care, and
- these children may have issues over cognitive understanding – being unable to understand the difference between fact and fiction in online content and then repeating the content/behaviours in schools or colleges or the consequences of doing so.

Any reports of abuse involving children with SEND will therefore require close liaison with the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) and the special educational needs coordinator (SENCO)

The school should consider providing extra pastoral support and attention for these pupils, along with ensuring any appropriate support for communication is in place.

Further information can be found in the department's:

- Send code of practice 0 to 25 years, and

- Supporting pupils at school with medical conditions

<https://www.Gov.Uk/government/publications/supporting-pupils-at-school-with-medical-conditions--3>

And from specialist organisations such as:

- The special educational needs and disabilities information and support services
- MENCAP represents people with learning disabilities, with specific advice and information for people who work with children and young people

Children with medical conditions

The fact that there has been an incident relating to the management of a child or young person's medical condition (including allergies) would not in and of itself warrant a referral to local safeguarding partners.

A safeguarding referral would only be needed where an incident highlighted concern that the child or young person might be at an increased risk of being neglected, abused or exploited by persons inside or outside of their family unit because of their medical condition.

This might occur where relevant information about a child or young person's medical condition is not provided to a school, college or setting, or where they are repeatedly sent without essential medication, thereby putting the individual at risk.

Further information is provided in our statutory guidance on supporting Pupils at School with Medical Conditions and Allergy safety in schools. Statutory guidance about the support that pupils with medical conditions and allergies should receive at school.

Children who are lesbian, gay or bisexual

A child or young person being lesbian, gay, or bisexual is not in itself a risk factor for harm; however, they can sometimes be vulnerable to discriminatory bullying. In some cases, a child who is perceived by other children to be lesbian, gay, or bisexual (whether they are or not) can be just as vulnerable as children who are. The school should know how to address vulnerabilities such as the risk of bullying and take steps to prevent it, including putting appropriate sanctions in place.

Children who are questioning their gender

Schools should keep in mind that it is common for children to engage in activities that are less typically associated with their sex. For example, at primary school age, girls may play with trucks, or boys may dress in clothes that are perceived as feminine.

Sometimes young children also go through a period of questioning their gender but for the majority this will not continue into adulthood, while a small proportion may continue to question their gender and this feeling may intensify into puberty.

Schools should take time to understand the thoughts and feelings of children who are questioning their gender and should be appropriately professionally curious about the full range of the child's experiences.

Schools should remain aware of the potential vulnerabilities of children who are questioning their gender, including the possibility of complex mental health and psychosocial needs, for example relating to relationships with family, peers or their broader social environment, including discriminatory bullying.

Schools should consider adopting policies across school life that maintain flexibility and avoid rigid rules based on gender stereotypes.

The Children's House School is a respectful place where bullying is never tolerated.

Considering requests for support with social transition

Schools should not initiate any action regarding social transition. Members of staff should not adopt any changes relating to social transition unless a decision has been made by the school and a child's parents or carers have been involved.

Schools should consider whether pupils would be best supported by a policy on social transition which explains the steps that a school will go through when a child requests support. When considering any request for support with social transition, schools should ensure that their decision-making process is documented and records are kept.

In making decisions about supporting social transition, schools and colleges must comply with their distinct but interacting obligations under safeguarding legislation and equality and human rights law, ensuring that any assessment of discrimination is informed by their evaluation of the welfare and best interests of the child and other children.

Schools should ensure that their decision-making process is documented and records are kept. We have statutory duties to safeguard and promote the welfare of all children and we will consider how best to fulfil that duty towards a child who is questioning their gender, as well as their peers, ensuring that any agreed course of action takes account of the impact on all of those affected. This means that the first step when considering a child's request for support with social transition will be to consider what is in the best interests of the child and other children, and a decision relating to social transition may not be the same as a child's wishes.

The school will work with parents or carers to determine what is in the best interests of the child as well as considering any clinical evidence or advice and seeking any additional non-clinical professional advice where relevant (for example from the SENCO), including involving the designated safeguarding lead⁵⁶. We will consider everything that could be affecting a child, including whether they have any wider health issues or neurodiversity. In considering the best interests of children, we will take a careful approach, being particularly conscious of safeguarding concerns.

Accommodating social transition is an active intervention so schools should take a very careful approach.

Schools should comply with obligations under the Equality Act and Human Rights Act when considering requests for support with social transition.

Support for children who wish to detransition:

There may be circumstances where a child wants to fully or partially reverse a request that has previously been agreed. The Cass Review highlighted the importance of maintaining flexibility and keeping options open for children who have socially transitioned and recommended that support should be provided to children who wish to de-transition. The school should work closely with parents or carers and relevant experts to ensure that children in this position are supported.

Looked after children and previously looked after children.

The proprietor ensures that staff have the skills, knowledge and understanding to keep looked after children safe and the information they need in relation to a child's looked after legal status, for example:

Whether they are looked after under voluntary arrangements with consent of parents or on an interim or full care order.

Contact arrangements with birth parents or those with parental responsibility.

Information about a child's care arrangements and the levels of authority delegated to the carer by the authority looking after him / her.

The DSL maintains these details, including contact details of the child's social worker.

The school's designated teacher for looked after children and previously looked after children in the nursery and upper school is the DDSL, Taiba Hussain.

The member of the council of management with responsibility for looked after children and previously looked after children is dawn brindle.

Care leavers.

The DSL maintains details of the local authority personal advisor appointed to guide and support care leavers and liaises with them as necessary regarding any issues of concern.

Appendix 2

Concerns about a child - guidance for staff

0 Receiving a disclosure

Listen carefully and keep an open mind. Do not take a decision as to whether or not the abuse has taken place.

Do not ask leading questions, i.e. a question which suggests its own answer. Use "tell me, explain to me, describe to me" (TED) questioning.

Reassure the pupil they are being taken seriously and they will be supported and kept safe.

Do not give a guarantee of absolute confidentiality. Explain the need to pass on the information in accordance with this policy so that the correct action can be taken.

Keep a sufficient written record of the conversation (see 2 below). All other evidence, for example, scribbled notes, mobile phones containing text messages, clothing, computers, must be kept securely with the written record.

Pass on the record when reporting the concern in accordance with this policy.

Recording a concern

Staff must record all concerns in writing.

Records should be factual and signed and dated, with the name of the signatory clearly printed in writing. Records should include:

the pupil's details: name; date of birth; address and family details.

date and time of the event / concern / conversation.

a clear and comprehensive summary of the event/concern / conversation.

details of how the concern was followed up and resolved, a note of any action taken and by whom, decisions reached and the outcome.

the name and position of the person making the record.

The school has a pro forma Record of Concern Form which should be completed and passed on when reporting the matter in accordance with this policy. This pro forma is available on SharePoint and in the school offices. The record can be completed after an initial discussion with the DSL and completed with the DSL where appropriate.

Use of reasonable force

There are circumstances when it would be appropriate for staff to use reasonable force to safeguard pupils. "Reasonable" in these circumstances means using no more force than is needed.

Staff should refer to the Good Behaviour Policy, the Behaviour Management Policy and the Staff Code of Conduct for more detailed guidance about the use of reasonable force. Also see Use of reasonable force and other restrictive interventions guidance.

Appendix 3

Dealing with allegations of child-on-child abuse

1 Child on child /child on child abuse(including sexual harassment and sexual violence)

Children of any age can abuse other children (often referred to as child-on-child abuse) and this can happen inside and /or outside school and /or online. This includes, but is not limited to:

bullying (including cyber-bullying and prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying).

abuse within intimate personal relationships between peers.

discriminatory behaviour, including racism, faith-targeted abuse, and other prejudice based incidents, physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element which facilitates and / or encourages physical abuse).

sexual violence, such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault (including grabbing bottoms, breasts and genitalia under or over clothes, flicking bras, unwanted kisses or embraces) possibly with an online element which encourages sexual violence.

sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse.

causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party.

consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images (also known as "sexting" or "youth produced sexual imagery") means the taking and sending or posting of nude or semi-nude images, videos or live streams by young people under the age of 18 online. This could be via social media, gaming platforms, chat apps or forums. It can also involve sharing between devices offline, for example via Apple's Airdrop.

upskirting, typically involving taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks (with or without underwear) to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm.

initiation / hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may include an online element).

It is a safeguarding issue for both victim and alleged perpetrator, it is preventable and it may involve serious physical harm or threats involving weapons.

2 The school's approach to child-on-child abuse

Staff understand that, even if there are no reports of child-on-child abuse at the school, it does not mean it is not happening; it may be the case that it is just not being reported. All staff working with children are advised to maintain an attitude of 'it could happen here'. For some (but not all) forms of child-on-child abuse it is more likely that girls will be victims and boys' perpetrators, but that all child-on-child abuse is unacceptable and will be taken seriously.

Staff understand the importance of reporting any concerns regarding child-on-child abuse to the DSL (or the DDSL in the DSL's absence).

Such behaviour is never accepted and should be considered as both a safeguarding issue and potentially a disciplinary one. The school will adopt a zero-tolerance approach to abuse. Downplaying certain behaviours (by, for example, dismissing sexual harassment as "banter", "having a laugh" or "part of growing up" can lead to a culture of unacceptable behaviours, an unsafe environment for children and its worst to a culture that normalises abuse.

All staff should recognise the escalatory nature of misogyny and the benefits of early identification to support their approach to minimising the risk of HSB, sexual harassment and sexual violence.

All staff should challenge inappropriate behaviour between pupils (such as grabbing bottoms, breasts and genitalia, pulling down trousers, flicking bras and lifting up skirts) and anyone who suffers, witnesses or hears of abuse of any form between pupils is asked to report it in accordance with this policy and / or the school's behaviour and sanctions and anti-bullying policies, so that appropriate action can be taken.

The Children's House school is taking a safeguarding approach in response to all incidents involving the sharing of nude or semi-nude images, regardless of whether they are consensual or non-consensual. All such incidents require a safeguarding response, with a proportionate approach that considers the age, development, and circumstances of the children involved, as well as any elements of coercion, exploitation or vulnerability.

Appropriate action will involve supporting all members of the school community who may be involved as a priority. This may require investigation by the school or other agencies. Until investigations have been undertaken and findings made, the school will work on the basis that the allegations may or may not be true and undertake careful risk assessment of the welfare of those involved to determine how best to manage the situation. This should be undertaken whether or not the incident is alleged to have occurred at school, or when the pupil involved was under the school's care and whether or not the pupil is under 18, as an issue which may impact pupil welfare. Disciplinary action will follow separately, if appropriate.

3 Harmful sexual behaviour (HSB)

The umbrella term 'harmful sexual behaviour' (HSB) is widely used in child protection and applies to behaviour occurring online, face-to-face, or both. HSB should always be considered within a child protection context.

Children's sexual behaviour exists on a wide continuum, ranging from normal and developmentally expected to inappropriate, problematic, abusive or violent. Behaviour that is problematic, abusive or violent is developmentally inappropriate and may cause developmental damage. Advice on stages of typical sexual development and behaviour for different age groups can be found in Sexual development and behaviour in children | NSPCC Learning.

When assessing HSB, the ages and developmental stage of the children involved is critical. Sexual behaviour between children may be considered harmful if there is a significant age difference, typically more than two years' difference or if one is pre-pubescent and the other is not. However, a younger child may also abuse an older child, especially if they hold power over them, e.g., due to a disability or physical size. Advice on responding to children who display sexualised behaviour is available in Responding to children who display sexualised behaviour.

3 Sexual harassment

Sexual harassment refers to 'unwanted conduct of a sexual nature' which can occur both online and offline and inside and outside of school or college. In this context it specifically relates to child-on-child sexual harassment. Such behaviour can:

- violate a child's dignity,
- make them feel intimidated, degraded or humiliated, and
- create a hostile, offensive or sexualised environment.

Whilst not intended to be an exhaustive list, examples of sexual harassment can include:

- sexual comments, such as telling sexual stories, making lewd comments, making sexual remarks about clothing or appearance and using sexualised names,
- sexual "jokes" or taunting,
- physical behaviour, such as deliberately brushing against someone, or interfering with someone's clothes. Our school would assess when such behaviour crosses into sexual violence – it is important to talk to and consider the experience of the victim,
- displaying pictures, photos or drawings of a sexual nature,
- upskirting (this is a criminal offence), and
- online sexual harassment, which may occur independently, or as a broader pattern of sexual harassment and/or sexual violence. This may include:
 - consensual and non-consensual making or sharing of nudes or semi-nudes. UKCIS Sharing nudes and semi-nudes: advice for education settings working with children and young people provides detailed advice for schools and colleges,
 - sharing of unwanted explicit content,
 - sexualised online bullying,
 - unwanted sexual comments and messages, including, on social media,
 - sexual exploitation; coercion and threats, and

- coercing others into sharing images of themselves or performing acts they're not comfortable with online.

4 Sexual violence

Child-on-child sexual violence can and does occur, both inside and outside of school/college. Sexual violence refers to specific sexual offences under the Sexual Offences Act 2003¹⁴⁵ as described below:

Rape: A person (A) commits an offence of rape if: he intentionally penetrates the vagina, anus or mouth of another person (B) with his penis, B does not consent to the penetration, and A does not reasonably believe that B consents.

Assault by penetration: A person (A) commits an offence if: s/he intentionally penetrates the vagina or anus of another person (B) with a part of her/his body or anything else, the penetration is sexual, B does not consent to the penetration and A does not reasonably believe that B consents.

Sexual assault: A person (A) commits an offence of sexual assault if: s/he intentionally touches another person (B), the touching is sexual, B does not consent to the touching, and A does not reasonably believe that B consents. (Sexual assault covers a very wide range of behaviour so a single act of kissing someone without consent or touching someone's bottom/breasts/genitalia without consent, can still constitute sexual assault).

Causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent: A person (A) commits an offence if: s/he intentionally causes another person (B) to engage in an activity, the activity is sexual, B does not consent to engaging in the activity, and A does not reasonably believe that B consents. (NOTE – this could include forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party).

What consent is: Consent is about having the freedom and capacity to choose. Consent to sexual activity may be given to one sort of sexual activity but not another, e.g. to vaginal but not anal sex or penetration with conditions, such as wearing a condom. Consent can be withdrawn at any time during sexual activity, and each time activity occurs. Someone consents to vaginal, anal or oral penetration only if s/he agrees by choice to that penetration and has the freedom and capacity to make that choice:

- a child under the age of 13 can never consent to any sexual activity,
- the age of consent is 16, and
- sexual intercourse without consent is rape.

5 Preventing Abuse

Our most effective prevention measures are:

Creating a strong 'it could happen here' culture. Staff to be trained to recognise all forms of abuse.

Teaching children what safe behaviour looks like. Children need to know exactly who they can talk to and what will happen if they report something.

Having a very clear reporting system in place

Strengthening behaviour and safeguarding policies

Supporting the child who has been harmed

Working with parents appropriately

The Children's House School is clear about what local processes are in place and available support for incidents involving HSB, sexual harassment or sexual violence. We review this information on a regular basis to ensure it is up to date. As such:

- if required, the designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) to discuss the local response with police and local authority children's social care to inform the school's policies (particularly the child protection policy) and response, and
- the designated safeguarding lead (and their deputies) to be familiar with local specialist support services for all children involved (including victims and alleged perpetrators) and know how to access them when needed. See below.

6 Management of allegations of child-on-child abuse (including sexual harassment and sexual violence)

Any incidents of child-on-child abuse (including harassment and violence) will be managed in the same way as any other child protection concern and will follow the local procedures. There is an ISCP Protocol for Managing Child-on-Child Sexual Abuse, Violence and Harassment which must be followed. We will seek advice and support from other agencies as appropriate.

Appendix 4

Dealing with allegations made and / or concerns raised against members of staff, including supply staff, trainee teachers, volunteers and contractors.

0 The school's procedures

The school promotes an open and transparent culture in which all concerns about all members of staff working in or behalf of the school, in a paid or unpaid capacity, including supply staff, trainee teachers, volunteers and contractors are dealt with promptly and appropriately, whether they are low level concerns or constitute an allegation that the person poses a risk of harm.

By doing this, it aims to identify any concerning, problematic or inappropriate behaviour early, in order to minimise the risk of abuse, support everyone affected and to inform members of staff, supply staff, volunteers and contractors of any behaviour which is or could be deemed inappropriate or to cross acceptable professional boundaries and help them to reflect, manage and learn from this.

The school has procedures for dealing with two levels of allegations made / concerns raised about staff, supply staff, trainee teachers, volunteers and contractors. This cover:

allegations / concerns that do not meet the harms threshold, otherwise known as "low level concerns".

allegations that may meet the harms threshold.¹⁰

1 Low level concerns

The School encourages everyone affected by its operation to report any concern, even if no more than one which causes a sense of unease or a "nagging doubt", they may have that a member of staff, supply staff, volunteer or contractor working in or on behalf of the School may have acted in a way that is inconsistent with expected professional standards and / or the staff code of conduct to the Headteacher, so that the appropriate action can be taken.

All members of staff, supply staff, trainee teachers, volunteers and contractors are themselves encouraged to self-refer, where, for example, they have found themselves in a situation which could be misinterpreted, might appear compromising to others, and / or on reflection they believe they have behaved in such a way that they consider may fall below the expected standards.

The purpose of the school's policy with regards to low level concerns is to create and embed a culture of openness, trust and transparency in which the School's values and expected behaviour which are set out in the staff code of conduct are constantly lived, monitored and reinforced by all staff.

The Headteacher will usually share the concern with the DSL (or deputy), and they will address the concern in a proportionate manner. They will consider whether the matter is a low-level concern - one which does not meet the allegations threshold (as set out in this section) or is otherwise not considered serious enough to consider a referral to the Designated Officer(s), or whether it is sufficiently serious to meet the harms threshold.

The school considers that all concerns about members of staff, supply staff, trainee teachers, volunteers and contractors should be shared responsibly with the right person, that they should be recorded and that they should be dealt with appropriately. In most cases, and particularly where a low level concern has been raised by a third party, that will involve some form of investigation by the Headteacher and, where possible, discussions with the person raising the concern, the person about whom the concerns have been raised and any witnesses.

The information collected as part of any such investigation will help to categorise the type of behaviour and determine what further action may need to be taken. The details of the concern should be recorded along with the context in which it arose, the rationale for the decisions made and action taken. This information should be kept confidential and stored securely. The name of individuals sharing concerns should also be noted, but a wish to remain anonymous should be respected as far as reasonably possible.

Records of low-level concerns will be reviewed so that potential patterns of concerning, problematic or inappropriate behaviour can be identified and responded to.

Where a pattern of behaviour is identified, the school will decide on a course of action to take which might include reference to its internal disciplinary procedures or a referral to the Designated Officer(s) if the harms threshold is met. The school will also consider whether there are any wider cultural issues in School that enabled the behaviour to occur and if appropriate policies could be revised or extra training delivered to minimise the risk of recurrence.

The Headteacher will consider whether reports about supply staff and contractors should be notified to their employers, so any potential patterns of inappropriate behaviour can be identified.

Low level concerns should not be included in staff, supply staff, trainee teachers, volunteer and contractor references unless they relate to issues which would normally be included e.g. misconduct or poor performance. Those that relate exclusively to safeguarding should not be referred unless they meet the threshold for referral to the Designated Officer(s) and are found to be substantiated.

2 Allegations that may meet the harms threshold.

Allegations that may meet the harms threshold are those that might indicate a person will pose a risk of harm if they continue to work in their present position, or in any capacity with children in the school, for example where the member of staff, supply staff, trainee teacher, volunteer or contractor has:

behaved in a way that has harmed a child, or may have harmed a child; and / or possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child; and / or behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicates he or she would pose a risk of harm to children; and / or behaved or may have behaved in a way that indicates they may not be suitable to work with children. This includes behaviour that may have happened outside school and creates a transferable risk.

The School should consider whether any allegations not meeting these criteria should be dealt with as low level concerns - see paragraph 10 below. Advice from the local authority Designated Officer(s) will be sought in borderline cases.

All such allegations must be dealt with as a priority without delay.

The local authority has designated a particular officer, or team of officers, to be involved in the management and oversight of allegations against people that work with children (Designated Officer(s)). The Designated Officer(s) will be informed immediately and in any event within one working day of all allegations that come to the school's attention and appear to meet the criteria in paragraph 2.1.1 above.

Allegations against a teacher who is no longer teaching and historical allegations will be referred to the police and may also be discussed with the Designated Officer.

3 Reporting an allegation

Where an allegation or complaint is made against any member of staff (other than the Headteacher), including the DSL, the matter should be reported immediately to the Headteacher. The allegation will be discussed immediately with the Designated Officer(s) and the Principal Offer, Safeguarding in Education (POSE) before further action is taken¹¹. Where appropriate, the Headteacher will consult with the DSL.

Where an allegation or complaint is made against the Headteacher, the matter should be reported immediately to the Chair of Council of Management or the Nominated Safeguarding Lead, without first notifying the Headteacher. The allegation will be discussed immediately (i.e. within 24 hours) with the Designated Officer(s) and the Principal Offer, Safeguarding in Education (POSE) before further action is taken. The Chair of Governors will consult the Nominated Safeguarding Lead, and vice versa.

Where an allegation is made against any Governor, the matter should be reported immediately to the Chair of Governors or the Nominated Safeguarding Lead. If either the Chair of Governors or the Nominated Safeguarding Lead are the subject of an allegation, the matter should be reported to the other. The allegation will be discussed immediately with the Designated Officer(s) and the Principal Offer, Safeguarding in Education (POSE) before further action is taken. Where appropriate, the Chair of Governors will consult the Nominated Safeguarding Lead, and vice versa.

If it is not possible to report to the Headteacher or Chair of Council of Management or Nominated Safeguarding Lead in the circumstances set out above, a report should be made immediately to the DSL. The DSL will take action in accordance with these procedures and will as soon as possible inform the Headteacher or, where appropriate, the Chair of Council of Management and the Nominated Safeguarding Lead.

The person taking action in accordance with the procedures in this Appendix is known as the Case Manager.

In some circumstances the school will have to consider an allegation against an individual not directly employed by them; for example, supply teachers, trainee teachers or contracted staff provided by an employment agency or business. Where this applies, the school shares the safeguarding responsibilities with the employment agency or business. The school remains responsible for gathering the facts and managing the safeguarding process, while working closely with the employment agency or business, which will usually lead on any disciplinary action.

¹¹This is consistent with ISI's comments in the safeguarding policy checklist that the school should not conduct investigations before a referral to LADO.

When using a supply agency, the school should inform the agency of the process for managing allegations but also take account of the agency's policies and the duty placed on agencies to refer to the DBS as personnel suppliers.

4 Disclosure of information

The Case Manager will inform the accused person of the allegation as soon as possible after the Designated Officer(s) has been consulted.

The parents or carers of the child / children involved will be informed of the allegation as soon as possible if they do not already know of it. They may also be kept informed of the progress of the case, only in relation to their child - no information can be shared regarding the staff member. The timing and extent of disclosures, and the terms on which they are made, will be dependent upon and subject to the laws on confidence and data protection and the advice of external agencies.

Where the Designated Officer(s) advises that a strategy discussion is needed, or the police or children's social care need to be involved, the Case Manager will not inform the accused or the parents or carers until these agencies have been consulted and it has been agreed what information can be disclosed.

The reporting restrictions preventing the identification of a teacher who is the subject of such an allegation in certain circumstances will be observed.

5 Further action to be taken by the School.

A school has a duty of care towards its employees and as such, it must ensure that effective support is provided for anyone facing an allegation. The school will take action in accordance with Part 4 of KCSIE and the School's employment procedures.

Where the School is not an employer of an individual about whom safeguarding concerns are raised with the school, it will still have responsibility to ensure allegations are dealt with appropriately and will liaise with relevant parties. This includes supply staff, volunteers and contractors. Any action taken will be in accordance with Part 4 of KCSIE. As stated above, reports about supply staff and contractors which do not meet the referral threshold, should be notified to their employers, so any potential patterns of inappropriate behaviour can be identified.

6 Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS)

The school will inform Ofsted of any allegations of serious harm or abuse by any person living, working or looking after children on the premises of the EYFS provision (whether that allegation relates to harm or abuse committed on the premises or elsewhere), and will provide details of the action taken in respect of those allegations.

These notifications will be made as soon as reasonably practicable, but in any event within 14 days of the allegations being made. A registered provider who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with this requirement, commits an offence.

The school must also inform one of the Islington Early Years Safeguarding Leads of any notifications to Ofsted including the outcome of a notification where applicable. See the Key External Contacts table for further contact details.

7 Ceasing to use staff.

If the School ceases to use the services of a member of staff because they are unsuitable to work with children, a settlement agreement will not be used and a referral to the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) will be made promptly if the criteria for a referral are met. Any such incidents will be followed by a review of the safeguarding procedures within the school, with a report being presented to the Proprietor without delay. The school may also need to consider a referral to the DBS if a member of staff is suspended, or deployed to another area of work that is not regulated activity.

If a member of staff tenders his or her resignation or ceases to provide his or her services at a time when child protection concerns exist in relation to that person, those concerns will still be followed up by the School in accordance with this policy and a referral to the DBS will be made promptly if the criteria for referral are met.

Separate consideration will be given as to whether a referral to the Teaching Regulation Agency (TRA) should be made where a teacher has been dismissed or would have been dismissed had he / she not resigned, because of unacceptable professional conduct, conduct that may bring the profession into disrepute, or a conviction at any time for a relevant offence. An interim referral to the TRA may also be considered and made if appropriate.

When an allegation is made, an investigation should be carried out to gather enough evidence to establish if it has foundation, and employers should ensure they have sufficient information to meet the referral duty criteria explained in the DBS referral guidance.

8 Malicious allegations

Where an allegation by a pupil is shown to have been deliberately invented or malicious, the Headteacher will consider whether to take disciplinary action in accordance with the school's behaviour and discipline policy.

Where a parent has made a deliberately invented or malicious allegation the Headteacher will consider whether to require that parent to withdraw their child or children from the school on the basis that they have treated the School or a member of staff unreasonably.

Whether or not the person making the allegation is a pupil or a parent (or other member of the public), the school reserves the right to contact the police to determine whether any action might be appropriate.

9 Record keeping.

Details of allegations found to be malicious will be removed from personnel records.

For all other allegations, full details will be recorded on the confidential personnel file of the person accused.

An allegation proven to be false, unsubstantiated or malicious will not be referred to in employer references. In accordance with KCSIE, a history of repeated concerns or allegations which have all been found to be false, unfounded, unsubstantiated or malicious will also not be included in any reference. Substantiated allegations should be included in references provided that the information is factual and does not include opinions.

The school will retain all safeguarding records and relevant personnel records for so long as reasonably required.¹²

10 Local Safeguarding Children Partnership Inter-Agency Escalation Procedure for Professionals with Child Protection or Child Welfare Concerns:

In circumstances in which a professional disagreement may arise between the school and agencies, the safety of the child and focus on the child are paramount considerations and any unresolved issues should be escalated with due consideration to the risks that might exist for the child.

Disagreements could arise in a number of areas but are most likely to arise around thresholds and roles and responsibilities. The procedure is as follows:

If a professional is unhappy with a decision or response from any agency following a referral s/he must discuss with DSL within one day.

DSL discusses concern/response with the equivalent post holder in the other agency within 3 days.

If concern continues, the DSL discusses concern/response with the Headteacher and child protection member of the Council of Management.

Named professional advises concerned professional of outcome at this stage.

If no outcome is reached, the DSL will liaise with his or her equivalent lead CPO officer in the other agency immediately to enable the decision to be discussed at senior management level as appropriate and action agreed.

If DSL is unable to influence the decision, s/he will inform the Director of Targeted and Specialist Children and Families Services, Islington, within 5 days (laura.eden@islington.gov.uk) in order that the decision can be reviewed between the agencies.

DSL provides feedback to professional/s with original concern.

At all stages actions and decisions must be recorded in writing and shared with relevant personnel.

¹²In accordance with the terms of reference of the Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse all Schools are required to retain information which relates to allegations (substantiated or not) of organisations and individuals who may have been involved in, or have knowledge of child sexual abuse or child sexual exploitation; allegations (substantiated or not) of individuals having engaged in sexual activity with, or having a sexual interest in, children; institutional failures to protect children from sexual abuse or other exploitation.

Charity Safeguarding procedures

0 Charity Safeguarding duties

As trustees of a charity, the trustees as Proprietor of the School, acknowledge in addition to their statutory duties to safeguard and protect children and adults at risk, they have a duty to take reasonable steps to protect everyone associated with the charity from harm, abuse or mistreatment. This protection of the people involved in the charity is central to its culture. The full extent of these additional Safeguarding duties is set out in the Charity Commission guidance: Safeguarding and Protecting People for Charities and Trustees. This guidance lists risks to be aware of, including discrimination, health and safety, cyber abuse and data breaches.

The contents of the School's Safeguarding and data protection suites of policies, the staff handbook and the health and safety policy set out how many concerns about these issues will be handled. If anyone has any Safeguarding concerns which have caused or may cause harm to anyone associated with the charity which are not expressly covered by those or other School policies, they should contact the Council of Management Chair without delay.

The trustees fulfil these duties by:

leading by example and promoting a fair, inclusive and positive culture, ensuring that everyone involved with the charity feels able to report any concerns they may have, confident that they will be heard and responded to.

setting and regularly (at least annually) reviewing the suitability of policies and procedures as a Board to ensure they remain fit for purpose and that they are followed in practice.

establishing appropriate delegation arrangements for the effective governance and management of safeguarding matters within the charity.

exercising proper oversight of the management of individual Safeguarding matters and a review of the performance of the charity's Safeguarding function, including consultation with stakeholders and appropriate trend analysis.

being quick to respond to concerns, to carry out appropriate investigations and take necessary action.

being open and transparent and not ignoring harm or downplaying failures.

managing conflicts of interest and / or loyalty ensuring that staff receive training in Safeguarding at a level which is commensurate with their role.

having clear recruitment and contracting processes and ensuring that proper due diligence is undertaken on the suitability of:

staff.

partner organisations.

other third parties (whether those who provide services to the Charity or directly to its beneficiaries (including pupils)) and enter into appropriate agreements with them covering the relationship, their respective roles and monitoring and reporting requirements.

review its premises and security arrangements and arrangements for third party use to ensure appropriate measures are in place to keep people safe.

reviewing any grant-making undertaken to ensure appropriate policies and procedures are in place.

implementing suitable reporting and monitoring processes in place for any work overseas.

set out risks and how it will manage them in a risk register.

allocating sufficient funds for the effective management of Safeguarding and arranging appropriate insurance cover.

Ensuring a sufficient level of oversight of the charity's operations to manage risk and report any incidents which materially affect the charity's operations, finances, people or reputation can be reported to the Charity Commission in line with How to report a serious incident in your charity (Charity Commission, June 2019).

Inter-agency Escalation Policy

Resolution of professional disagreements in work relating to the safety of children

1.0 Introduction

- 1.1 Problem resolution is an integral part of professional co-operation and joint working to safeguard children. Effective working together depends on an open approach and honest relationships between agencies.

- 1.2 Professional disputes are reduced by clarity about roles and responsibilities and airing and sharing problems in networking forums. Effective working together depends on resolving disagreements to the satisfaction of workers and agencies, and a belief in a genuine partnership.
- 1.3 Professional disagreement is only dysfunctional if not resolved in a constructive and timely fashion. Disagreements could arise in a number of areas but are most likely to arise around thresholds and roles and responsibilities. Some examples may include:
- Where one professional disagrees with the action of another around a particular course of action, such as closing involvement with a child or family.
 - Where one agency considers that the plan is inappropriate and that a child's needs are not being best met by the current plan.
 - Where a member of staff or an agency considers that the child's safeguarding needs are better met by a Child Protection Plan and have requested that a Child Protection Conference be called and feel that this has been refused.

2.0 Aim and Objectives

- 2.1 It is important to:
- avoid professional disputes that put children at risk, obscure the focus on the child or delay decision making.
 - resolve difficulties (within and) between agencies quickly and openly.
 - identify problem areas in working together where there is a lack of clarity and to promote resolution via amendment to protocols and procedures.
- 2.2 The safety of individual children and focus on children are the paramount considerations in any professional disagreement and any unresolved issues should be escalated with due consideration to the risks that might exist for the child.

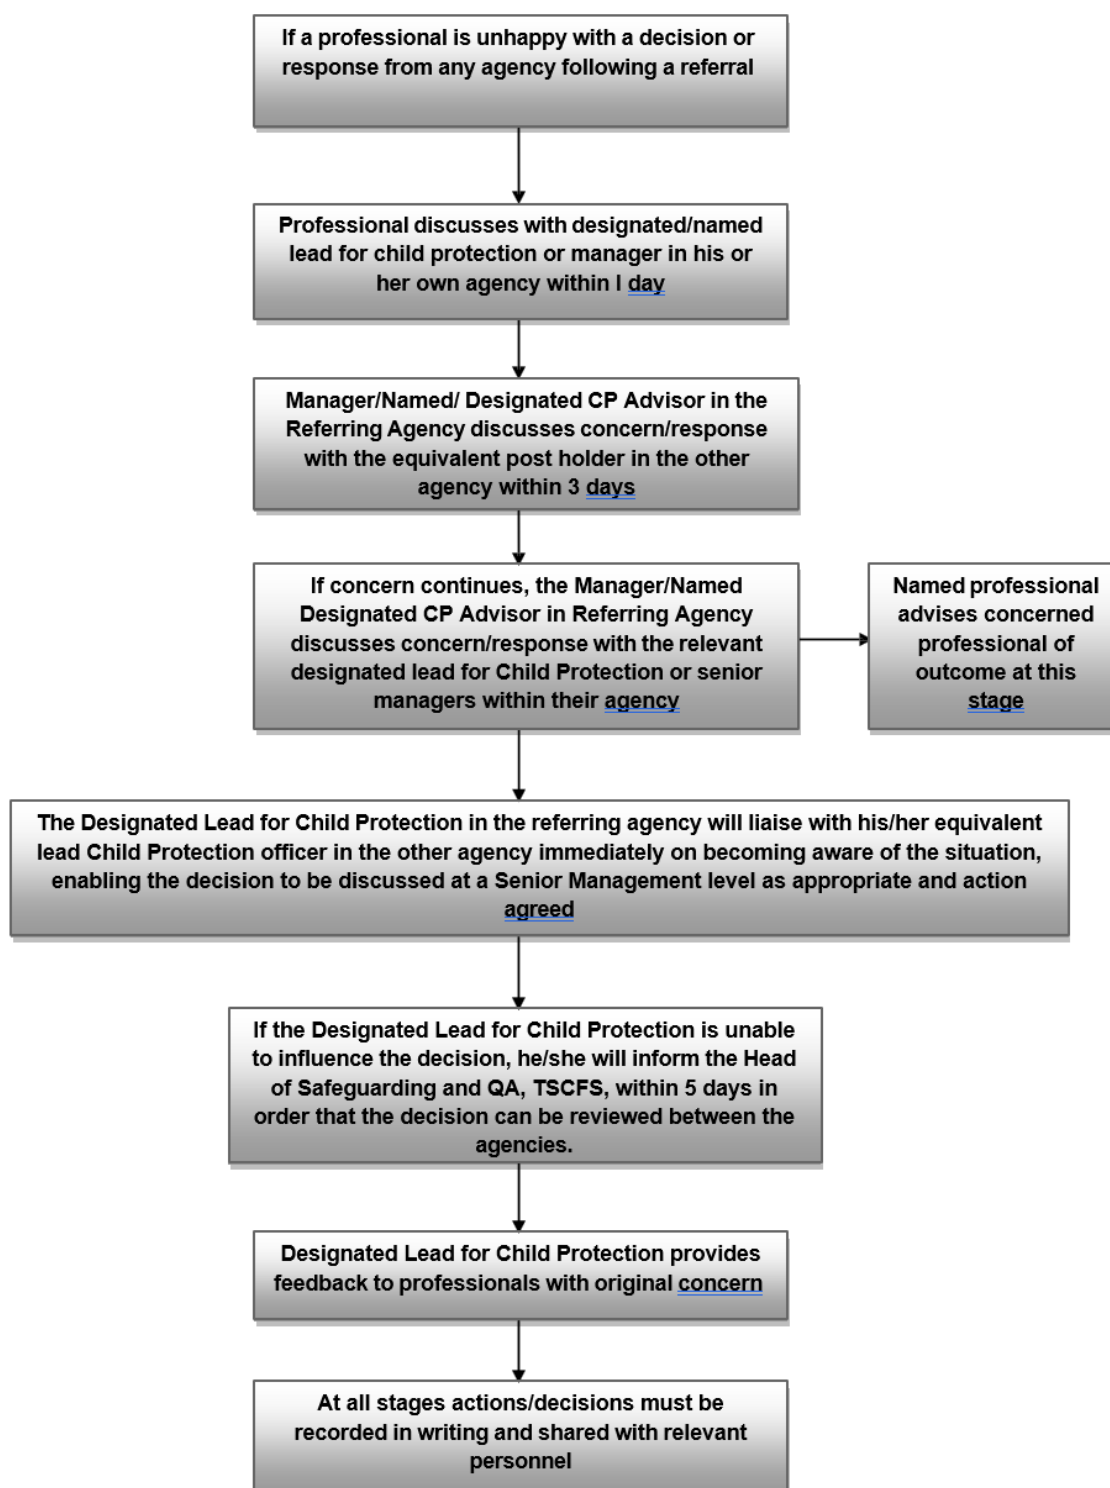

3.0 Escalation Policy

- 3.1 The process of resolution should be as simple as possible.
- 3.2 The aims should be to resolve difficulties at practitioner / fieldworker level between agencies. Attempts at problem resolution may leave one worker/agency believing that the child/ren remain(s) at risk of significant harm. This worker/agency has responsibility for communicating such concerns through agreed channels.
- 3.3 The following stages are likely to be involved:
- recognition that there is a disagreement over a significant issue, which impacts on the safety and welfare of a child.
 - identification of the problem and clarity about the disagreement and what the aim is. These two stages could involve consulting a colleague to clarify thinking.

- 3.4 Initial attempts should be made to resolve the problem. This should normally be between the people who disagree unless the child is at immediate risk. It should be recognized that differences in status and/or experience may affect the confidence of some workers to pursue this unsupported.
- 3.5 If unresolved, the problem should be referred within 1 working day to the designated/named Child Protection advisor in their own agency or their line manager who will discuss with the manager or their equivalent in the other agency.
- 3.6 If the problem remains unresolved, the line manager will refer within 3 days 'up the line' (see flow chart).
- 3.7 If the matter is still unresolved, a referral will be made within 5 days to the Head of Service, Safeguarding and Quality Assurance Service. The role of the Head of Service, Safeguarding and Quality Assurance Service is:
- To give independent consideration to the issues being raised providing feedback on the strengths and weaknesses of the case being brought forward.
 - To ensure that throughout the process, lines of communication remain open and clear and that the issue does not become clouded, personalized, or lost in other processes.
 - To provide a briefing to senior managers across agencies on the issue being raised and possible routes to resolving the issue.
- 3.8 A clear record should be kept at all stages, by all parties. In particular this must include written confirmation between the parties about an agreed outcome of the disagreement and how any outstanding issues will be pursued. All records should be retained on the child's case file / agency database.
- 3.9 At each stage it is important that the person who originally raised the concern is given feedback on what action has been taken in response. It is the responsibility of the person to whom the issue is referred to ensure that clear and timely feedback is provided.
- 3.10 When the issue is resolved, any policy issues should be identified and referred to the Policy and Practice subgroup of the ISCB to inform future learning and possible changes to existing policies and procedures.
- 3.11 It may also be useful for individuals to debrief following some disputes in order to promote continuing good working relationships and identify possible training needs.

Please note that this policy does not apply to cases where there may be concerns about the behaviour or conduct of another professional that may impact on a child's safety and well-being. In such cases, reference should be made to the agency's own
